

Taft-Roosevelt Fight a Bitter One

SENATOR DIXON'S CLAIMS

Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Roosevelt, emphatically declared that the temporary roll call of the convention at this hour showed that Roosevelt would be nominated by a majority of at least 42 and that Senator Borah would be chosen temporary chairman over Senator Root by a large majority.

"At two o'clock this morning," said Mr. Dixon, "when we checked up our list of delegates known to be for Roosevelt and those we are sure to have with us we found unquestionably that we would control the convention and name Mr. Roosevelt by a clean majority of 42 votes."

Taft Supporters -- SENATOR DIXON CLAIMS VICTORY

WHAT TAFT MEN SAY

Taft forces today characterized as "too puerile to talk about" the plan which emanated from Col. Roosevelt's room last night of substituting a new temporary roll for that created by the national committee. "We are ready for that statement or any other chimerical proposal that comes from the same source," declared Senator Penrose, as he welcomed a number of other Taft leaders for an early conference to discuss ways and means.

"Not a lawyer in the convention would seriously entertain any proposition to set aside party traditions in disposing of contest cases," said Mr. Penrose.

VERDICT OF $1000 FOR THE PLAINTIFF

In the Case of Ernest Perry vs. the Davis & Sargent Lumber Company

In the case of Ernest Perry of Woburn vs. The Davis & Sargent Lumber Co., which was on trial in superior court since last Thursday, the jury this afternoon reported a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $1000. In this case the plaintiff alleged that while in the employ of the lumber company he fell through an open space at their saw mill in Middlesex street, this city and fractured one of his feet. A. S. Howard and A. J. Blason for the plaintiff and F. E. Dunbar and J. J. Rogers for the defendant company.

The next case to be called to trial is that of Vida S. Walker, administratrix for the estate of the late Benjamin Hirst, vs. Martina Gage of the Danol Gage Ice Co., an action of tort. In the sum of $15,000, one-third of which is for death and the other two-thirds for conscious suffering. The plaintiff alleges that the late Benjamin Hirst was run over by an ice wagon belonging to the defendant, about two years ago, in Perkins street and was so badly injured that he died a few months later. The jury was this morning empaneled and took a view of the premises where the alleged accident occurred.

Trull & Welf for the plaintiff and Thomas W. Proctor and A. P. Sawyer for the defendant.

BUNKER HILL DAY OBSERVED IN BOSTON

Outdoor Sports and Two Parades Enjoyed

BOSTON, June 17.—The unsuccessful defense of Bunker Hill by the colonists 137 years ago, popularly known as the battle of Bunker Hill, was celebrated in Greater Boston today along traditional American lines. The center of activity was naturally in Charlestown with two parades circling the tall granite shaft on Bunker Hill, "open house" by numerous clubs, some speechmaking, fireworks, in the evening and small boy enthusiasm all day. The day proved favorable for outdoor amusements and in other sections of Greater Boston there were numerous holiday reports.

WARREN G. HARDING

WHO WILL PRESENT NAME OF PRES. TAFT TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The visit of Chairman Roosevelt to the rooms of Col. Roosevelt at midnight was not known to Mr. Roosevelt's associates on the national committee until this morning. They scouted the idea that Mr. Roosevelt had sought to make peace with the Roosevelt men.

At the Taft conference Rep. Olmstead of Pennsylvania was an important factor. He announced that he would be at the right hand of Mr. Roosevelt from the moment the convention opens to keep him straight on parliamentary procedure and the Taft leaders said they would be as well fortified with Roosevelt in the chair as they would be with Senator Root, the Taft choice for the temporary chairmanship. It was said at the conference that the Taft men did not care how early the Roosevelt forces started the inevitable conflict.

"The temporary roll of delegates as arranged by the national committee will organize the convention," said Mr. McKinley. "I was told also that the Taft leaders also were prepared for any kind of a move and that they were well acquainted with the various plans coming from the Roosevelt headquarters."

The source of their information was not explained.

The Taft leaders ridicule the plans announced by Roosevelt men to force roll calls in the convention and to prevent contesting Taft delegates who were seated by the national committee, from voting.

Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt manager, stated today that Roosevelt will have a majority of 42 in the convention.

At the Roosevelt headquarters Col. Roosevelt this morning received the delegates from Illinois, New Jersey, Oklahoma and Massachusetts. The colonel shook hands and chatted with each delegate. After the Massachusetts delegates had visited the colonel, Matthew Hale of Boston announced that the eight delegates at large from that state who had been renounced by Col. Roosevelt in favor of President Taft would vote for Roosevelt.

"In view of the tactics of the national committee in deciding the contest in other states," said Mr. Hale, "I believe the eight delegates at large from Massachusetts will vote for Col. Roosevelt."

Speaking for the Roosevelt forces today Gov. Hadley of Missouri, chosen for floor leader of the convention, declared that he had diphtheria rather than tonsillitis. Had he known in the beginning what the trouble was it would have made it much easier for him.

"How can you help it?" he was asked. "We are not unmasking our batteries today," he replied. "No delegate with stolen credentials shall have a vote in this convention if we can help it. By tomorrow we will have our plans completed."

"What shall you do?" "Nothing that is not regular and American; nothing that will not be approved by the American people."

The Roosevelt leaders apparently were not disturbed by the announcement of the Taft adherents that they would successfully block the movement for the adoption of a substitute roll of delegates. They asserted with confidence that the convention would not be organized, "with fraudulent delegates in the places that should be occupied by those duly elected or chosen."

The Oklahoma delegation today recognized the possibility of a bolt and in caucus by a vote of 15 to 2 defeated a resolution binding itself to support the nominee of the convention for president and vice-president.

KILLED HIS SISTER AND SHOT HIMSELF

A Double Tragedy Occurred in Boston as Result of a Family Quarrel

BOSTON, June 17.—What the police state was a family quarrel over an objectionable suitor resulted in the murder of Nellie Capadulca by her brother Rafael and the latter's suicide immediately after.

Loretta Capadulca, a 19 year old sister, said that her brother objected to the attentions of a neighbor to her sister Nellie and refused to let them go to the Charlestown celebration. A few minutes after the suitor left Rafael called Nellie into his room and three shots were heard. Nellie was found on the floor with a bullet wound in the head and a revolver beside her hand but with all the cartridges intact. Rafael was in the corner breathing his last, with another revolver in his hand from which three shots had been fired, one into his own head.

Finance Commissioner Makes an Interesting Report

sign that the commissioner is onto his job.

Mr. Donnelly was heard from today when he passed out a very creditable statement to the press. It is a comparative statement having to do with tax collections made during the months of January, February, March, April and May, 1911 as compared with the corresponding months in 1912 and the figures show that the collections this year exceed the collections of last year by nearly $5000 or enough to pay Mr. Donnelly's salary and another of the commissioner's salaries for the year.

The total collections in 1911 for the months herein named were $243,502.39 as against $248,532.20 in 1912. The total amount collected represents taxes and the interest thereon from 1901 to 1911 inclusive.

The total amount of taxes collected during the months in question and for the years from 1901 to 1912 inclusive was, by months, as follows: January, $60,025.01; February, $40,040.29; March, $32,924.91; April, $33,635.42; May, $118,835.56. The interest collected was as follows: January, $360.21; February, $114.23; March, $2329.26; April, $3895.67; May, $3220.44.

Rev. Fr. McKenna, O. M. I., superior of the novitiate as assistant priest. The singing for the occasion was by the novitiate choir which rendered beautiful music. At the close of the mass a short reception was held by Fr. Bessette during which time he was showered with congratulations and best wishes from his many relatives and friends. This morning the new priest celebrated mass at St. John's hospital.

JIMMY GARDNER HAS DIPHTHERIA

Clever Pugilist is Confined to His Home

Jimmy Gardner, the well known boxer, is confined to his home with diphtheria. It was at first thought that he was suffering from tonsillitis and his case had been diagnosed as such, but on Saturday Dr. A. E. A. McCann pronounced it diphtheria. Dr. McCann took a culture, sent it to the board of health and the culture proved positive, so that the doctor's diagnosis was substantiated by the board of health. Jimmy Gardner was to have fought Eddie McGorty of Goshawk, Wis., last Wednesday night at the Pilgrim A. C., Boston, but his throat was very bad at that time and he did not go on. Jimmy showed up all right but the doctors would not let him fight. It was not known, however, that the very clever pugilist was suffering from diphtheria rather than tonsillitis and had the true character of the disease been known at that time the chances are Jimmy would not have been obliged to weigh in and make his appearance to save his forfeit money. Asked this afternoon how Jimmy was getting along, Dr. McCann said: "Jimmy is a very sick man. He has exposed himself considerably and it was unfortunate that he didn't know in the beginning that he had diphtheria rather than tonsillitis. Had he known in the beginning what the trouble was it would have made it much easier for him."

REV. FR. BESSETTE CELEBRATED HIS FIRST MASS AT TEWKSBURY NOVIATE

A very pretty ceremony took place at the novitiate of the Oblate Fathers in Tewksbury yesterday, when Rev. Herbert Bessette, O. M. I., who was ordained last Saturday by Cardinal O'Connell at the Boston cathedral, celebrated his first mass.

The little chapel at the novitiate was crowded to the doors with friends and relatives of the young priest including some from Vancouver, Boston and Lowell. Rev. Fr. Bessette was assisted by Bro. McCann as deacon and Bro. Jalbert as sub-deacon, and

FELL FROM PLAZZA GIRL BADLY INJURED

Gertrude B. Hill is in a Critical Condition

Gertrude B. Hill, aged four years, fell from a piazza at 67 Antioch street shortly before 11 o'clock this morning and was seriously injured. The piazza is about 15 feet from the ground and when picked up it was found she was unconscious. The ambulance was summoned and she was taken to the Lowell hospital, where upon examination it was found that she was suffering from internal injuries and is in a critical condition.

HOUSE AND BARN IN WESTFORD WERE DESTROYED BY FIRE

The house and barn owned by William Pollock in Westford were destroyed by fire late Saturday night, and practically the contents and considerable livestock were lost. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin. The property was partly insured.

Mr. Pollock returned to his home from Lowell about 11 o'clock when he noticed a fire in the direction of his home. He ran as fast as possible to the house and found that both the house and barn were ablaze. He aroused the members of his family and took them to a place of safety.

Mr. Brooks of Granville also noticed the blaze and notified John Henley, captain of the fire department, who went to the scene at once with what men he could gather and several extinguishers. Several calls were made by telephone, but being late at night it was hard to arouse the people.

DEATHS

RONDRAU—Marie Alma, infant daughter of Charles and Anna Rondrau, aged 1 year, 3 months and 6 days, died today at the home of her parents, 7 Montcalm avenue.

QUIGLEY—Mrs. Josephine McCabe Quigley, wife of William H. Quigley, and one of the most esteemed residents of North Chelmsford, died this morning at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Boston. Her unexpected death will be a shock to a wide circle of friends and especially to the residents of North Chelmsford, among whom she has lived all her life. Deceased was a young woman of most estimable character. Deeply religious, much of her life was spent in furthering the interest of St. John's church, where for the past 19 years she had been the organist, and was prominently identified with the various societies connected with the church, being prefect of the Ladies' sodality for many years. Mrs. Quigley was also a member of the High School.

Almond of North Chelmsford. Besides her husband she leaves an infant daughter; her mother, Mrs. Margaret McCabe; four sisters, Mrs. Peter McEaney, Mrs. John Garvey, Mrs. William J. Quigley and Miss Angela McCabe. The body was brought to this city and taken to her home on Princeton street by Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell and Sons.

POTTER—Stentley Allen Potter died yesterday at his home, 36 Albion street, aged 53 years. Besides his wife, Mary, he leaves one sister, a brother and his mother, all in Shamrock, N. H. He was a member of the L. O. O. F. in Hillsboro, N. H.

SIMPSON—Mrs. Margaret Simpson died yesterday at her home, 59 Howard street, aged 78 years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. James Seavey of North Andover, and Miss Tullie of Oxford, Mass.; also four sons, Reuben of Buxton, Me., Herman of Vinet, N. H., Alfred of Cribhaven, Me., and Fred, also of Cribhaven.

THOMAS—The many friends of William Thomas will be grieved to learn of his death which occurred Saturday at his home, 7 Willie avenue, after a brief illness. Deceased was 46 years of age and a native of Lowell. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Cornelius Shinkwin and Mrs. Jennie Demaris.

MARKEY—Patrick N. Markey, an old and esteemed member of St. Patrick's church and a prominent resident of ward 2, died yesterday at his home, 53 Adams street. Deceased had been a resident of Lowell for the past 35 years and the greater part of that time a valued employee of the Lowell Machine shop. He leaves a wife and two sons, James and Bernard Markey.

PEARLSTEIN—Asaw Pearlstein died yesterday at the Tewksbury state hospital. Burial took place in the Hebrew cemetery in Pelham, N. H.

FUNERAL NOTICES

PARK DEPARTMENT MONEY FOR PARK SYSTEM ONLY

It Cannot be Used in Caring
for Lucy Larcom Park,
Says City Solicitor

Sometime ago the superintendent of parks asked the city solicitor if any part of the money appropriated for park purposes could be used in caring for Lucy Larcom park. This park is no part of the park system and the only thing done on that park this spring was done by the mayor. He had the park cleaned by men from the Chelsea street hospital and the expense of the work will be charged to some one of the mayor's appropriations. The city solicitor says that the money appropriated for park purposes cannot be used in connection with Lucy Larcom park. The solicitor submitted his opinion in the matter today and it reads as follows:

Dear Sir: In reply to your request for an opinion from the city solicitor upon the following question: "Can the park commission apply any portion of money appropriated for park purposes to the care of Lucy Larcom park?"

The city solicitor is of the opinion that no money appropriated for park purposes can be used for Lucy Larcom park. Lucy Larcom park is not within the control of the park commission; it is no part of the park system of the city of Lowell; it is separate and distinct, being held under trusteeship by deed of trust, the trustees being the mayors of the city of Lowell in succession and the chairman of the park commission in succession.

Pursuant to Section 3, Chapter 115, Acts of 1895, "No sum appropriated for any other purpose shall be expended for any other purpose" is conclusive on the point mentioned in your question.

The money appropriated for park purposes under the direction of the park commission. Since, therefore, Lucy Larcom park is not under the control of the park commission and not a part of the park system, the money appropriated for park purposes cannot be applied to any other purpose.

The city is empowered and authorized to appropriate money to be used by the trustees aforementioned, for the purpose of beautifying said parks or otherwise carrying out the provisions of the trust.

Respectfully submitted,
J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor.

K. OF C. OPENED SUMMER CAMP

About 250 Enjoyed the Outing at Camp
Genoa

Yesterday the Knights of Columbus opened Camp Genoa on the Nashua road about eight minutes ride beyond Lakeview. Special cars went out between 11 and 12 o'clock, carrying a party of about 150. Later in the day the attendance numbered 250 and would have been much larger but for the rain. Dinner was served by the Page company at the pavilion, a very large corps of waiters under the direction of Mr. Albert O'Heir working assiduously until all were served. But for the unfavorable weather the dinner would have been served upon the tennis court. The menu was quite elaborate, including as it did steamed clams and salads of various kinds.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Grand Knight Henry Heaps called to order and addressed the assembly, setting forth the advantages of a summer camp away from the din and noise of the busy city. He spoke of the beauty of the valley and the healthful benefits of the fresh air and the sun. He gave me great pleasure to welcome you all to the opening of our beautiful country seat for the summer of 1912. I regret that the day is unfavorable for the full enjoyment of such an outing; but although—"The mist is o'er the blooming bowers, Like sorrow's veil on beauty's brow"—yet you can realize the grandeur of the scenery that surrounds this camp and extends on all sides as far as the eye can reach, abounding as it does in sylvan splendor and the beauties of the beauties of hill and dale descending to the flowery meads where the majestic Merrimack rolls onward to the sea.

"For the benefit of the brother Knights who are here for the first time I may mention a few facts of interest in connection with this retreat. It is, as you know, named after the birthplace of Columbus, while yonder camp named for Queen Isabella, has been visited by many of our members without any of the disappointment which the Spanish felt on first visiting the Spanish queen.

"Here," said Mr. Heaps, "we have about 25 acres of richly wooded land, part of which was under cultivation some hundred and fifty years ago by the Fletcher family, while perhaps the greater portion of it is clothed with primeval woods through which the Indians hunted ere the white man claimed this region as his own. The road which marks the entrance was once the pathway to a ferry across the Merrimack at a point where our boat-house now stands, and on yonder heights was a blockhouse from which the early settlers defended their possessions against the incursion of Wampanoag and his Indian braves. The farm house, which is now our kitchen, was built and occupied by three men who fought in the Revolution, having answered the call of the minutemen at the battle of Concord and Lexington.

To prove still further the historic interest of these grounds, I point to the grove directly opposite this clubhouse in which is the Fletcher cemetery, now almost hidden by trees and brush; but the state tombstones there still tell their story, recording the life and death of Captain Robert Fletcher, who died in 1712, Ezekiel Fletcher, who died in 1742, and many others, presumably descendants of the original Fletcher family that located in that vicinity, branching out from Concord, Mass.

These are but a few of the interesting facts in the history of this camp, but the beauties of Nature remain in all their pristine grandeur and when the brothers assemble here in sufficient numbers they can enjoy a ball game on a diamond in a valley as beautiful as some of those of world-wide celebrity on the Hudson, the Shannon, the Rhine and the Rhine. The beauties of this valley I cannot describe, but to it I may apply the words of the poet:

HENRY J. HEAPS,
Grand Knight, K. of C.

"O beauteous glades, O lovely vale,
O soft retreat of sylvan splendor
Nor summer sun nor morning gale
E'er hailed a scene more sweetly tender.
How shall I tell the thousand charms
Within thy verdant bosom dwelling,
Where lulled in Nature's fostering arms
Soft peace abides and joy exelling."

If you want to enjoy one of Nature's rarest treats come here to witness the dawn of day on a bright summer morning when the rosy beams of the sun spread their glory in the east, when the birds make the woods resound with their chorus of melody; when the dew is yet upon the grass, when under the misty glow the crystal drops are changed to rubies as they hang upon the opening flowers, now waked by morning bees, or come here to witness a golden sunset as the beams fall across the valley above your head and shimmer in the trees, while the banking clouds in their iridescent hues change from crimson and gold to olive and blue, that finally blend in the shades of night, only soon to be brightened by the evening star and the big full moon whose silvery sheen is reflected in the placid waters of the Merrimack.

I hope you will come here during the summer, bring your families to enjoy the camp, the dance hall, the groves, the valley and the grounds in every part. I thank you for your attendance. I hope we shall meet here again and often during the summer and that you will enjoy this opening day to the utmost.

Secretary Philip Breen did everything possible to entertain the members and to make the occasion enjoyable, as did the following committee of arrangements: Henry Heaps, Albert O'Heir, John Welch, John H. Murphy and Joseph Bourke.

transacted during the course of the meeting. Sachem Edmund Whitney presided. One warrior was exalted to the chief's degree.

A delegation from Passagouit tribe of Haverhill, were present to extend an invitation to this tribe to attend their outing Sunday, June 23d, at Gardellas camp, Bradley's brook, near Haverhill. The invitation was accepted and a committee consisting of Daniel Starkey, George O. Spaulding and Edmund Crompton was appointed to select a tug of war team to compete with the Lawrence team for a suitable prize. J. H. Hickey reported that the deputies of this reservation met at the great council office in Boston last Wednesday, and the great sachem, Theodore R. Emond of Haverhill outlined their duties for the present term. Some of the deputies offered suggestions on degree work and the modifying of the laws to benefit the tribes; they were accepted, and the deputies instructed to use their best efforts to promote the interest of the order. Remarks were made on the welfare of the order by the Haverhill brothers, on tribal affairs by Brothers Edmund Crompton, George Ryan, L. F. Steele and George A. Frost.

BITTEN BY RATS

CHILD HAD TO BE TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Frederick Bragden, 6 years old, was left alone in his home at 229 South Wernock street, while his mother called on her sister, who was ill.

Mrs. Bragden was away only a few minutes, but when she returned she found the lad screaming and covered with blood from many wounds on his hands and body. He had been attacked by several rats, and it is believed he would have been seriously hurt if his mother's return had not scared away the rats.

As it was, he was so badly injured he had to be taken to a hospital to have his wounds dressed.

THE ANNUAL OUTING OF LAMSON EMPLOYEES

Was Held at Mountain
Rock Grove Today

The annual outing of the employees of the Lamson Consolidated Store Service Co. is being held at Mountain Rock grove today and as the weather conditions were ideal a great time was enjoyed. The employees assembled at Merrimack square at 9 o'clock and about one hundred took the 9:15 car. Another car with about one hundred employees left the square at 9:45. Upon the arrival at the grounds: the first number on the program was a ball game. The old-timers immediately got down to business and started to sneak in a little practice.

The game was scheduled to start at 11 o'clock and the teams to clash were the "Pick of the Sheep" and the "Pick of the Sheep." The battery for the former team was made up of Mullin, pitcher, and Holmes, catcher. For the "Picks," Breen was on the mound and Riley on the receiving end.

The other attractions were: one hundred yards dash, sack race, hop, step and jump, pole vault and several other events. Suitable prizes were awarded the winners.

At 1 o'clock the dinner, which included steamed clams, lobsters, baked blue fish, potato salad and all the other fixings was the attraction.

During the afternoon the sports were resumed.

The committees in charge of the outing are: General committee, Harry Tanner, George Willard, John Holton, E. C. Winslow, P. J. Ryan and P. J. Stevens; committee on sports, George Hobden, M. Cunningham and M. Coughlin; entertainment committee, Harry Needham, Charles Griffin and William Marren.

MATRIMONIAL

A very pretty wedding was celebrated at St. Louis church this morning, when Miss Marie Anne Lea Caron, a popular young woman of West Centralville, and Mr. Achille Guimont, a well-to-do merchant of Cap St. Ignace, Que., were united in the bonds of matrimony. The ceremony was performed at a nuptial mass celebrated at 10 o'clock by Rev. L. C. Bedard. A large number of friends of the bride were in attendance and beautiful singing was rendered by the Children of Mary choir, of which the bride was a member. The young bride was given away by her father, Mr. Godfroid Caron, while the bridegroom was accompanied to the altar by his father, Mr. Zephyrin Guimont of Cap St. Ignace.

The choir was under the direction of Miss Ida Mongrain, who also accompanied on the organ, and several appropriate hymns were rendered, the solos being sustained by the Misses Regina and Clara Caron, sisters of the bride, and Mrs. Olier J. David. Miss Yvonne Moisan sang in a delightful manner a very pretty "Ave Verum." At the close of the mass the party repaired to the home of the bride's parents, 76 Beaulieu street, where a dainty wedding breakfast and short reception were held. Mr. and Mrs. Guimont, who were the recipients of many costly gifts, left at 10 o'clock for Cap St. Ignace, Que., where they will make their home. At the wedding were Mr. Ernest Caron and Mrs. Alice Ouellette, both of Nashua, N. H.

CLAIRMONT—GUILMETTE

Mr. Eugene Clairmont and Miss Hermine Guilmette were married this morning, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Fr. Baron, O. M. I., at a nuptial mass celebrated at 7 o'clock at St. Joseph's church. The happy couple were attended by Messrs. Amodee Guilmette and Calisto Lemire. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Amodee Guilmette, 135 Perkins street. Tonight a supper will be served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gedeon Nault, 29 Campaw street, followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple will make their home at 10 Tucker street. At the wedding were Messrs. Alexandre Brabant of Wilmington and Alfred Courville of Maynard.

A STUBBORN BLAZE IN PRODUCE STORE

Probably Caused by Rats
and Matches

A stubborn blaze broke out in the building at 291 Market street occupied by John Vlahos, wholesale produce and fruit dealer, yesterday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock and before the firemen succeeded in getting the fire under control considerable damage was done.

The fire started in a pile of boxes and near the banana room on the second floor. Agent Richardson, of the Lowell Humane society was passing at the time and seeing smoke issuing through the windows pulled in an alarm from box 7. When the firemen arrived they found a lively blaze in progress and the smoke was very thick.

Several lines of hose were laid and four streams of water were playing on the building from both the rear and front, and it was not long before the flames were checked. The loss was confined entirely to the building where it started. Considerable fruit was destroyed and the damage to the rear of the building was severe, amounting in all to several hundred dollars.

Fortunately one of the employees happened to be on hand soon after the alarm was rung in, and he succeeded in securing the books and papers in the office, which was directly beneath where the fire started.

It is thought that the fire was caused by rats and matches.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

NEWLY ORDAINED PRIESTS CELEBRATE FIRST MASS

Impressive Services Were Held in the Catholic Churches Yesterday

The solemnity of the Feast of the Sacred Heart was observed in all the Catholic churches yesterday. At the Sacred Heart church, the services were particularly impressive.

The services were held at 10:30 o'clock and the mass was sung by Rev. Anthony J. Swenczek, O. M. I., who was raised to the priesthood last Saturday by His Eminence Cardinal O'Connell. He was assisted by Rev. B. J. Fletcher, O. M. I., as assisting priest and by Rev. Joseph Bolduc, O. M. I., as deacon and Rev. Terence Lofus, O. M. I., as sub-deacon.

The congregation was very large and the church was beautifully decorated for the occasion. The services started with a procession. Fr. Swenczek intoned the "Veni Creator," which was answered by the sanctuary choir. The blessed sacrament was encased in a beautiful gold monstrance and was exposed during the service. The participants included the officers of the mass, the sanctuary choir boys and the altar boys. The blessed sacrament was carried by the celebrant of the mass, who walked under a handsome canopy, carried by the four officers of the altar. The Holy Name Society, the Junior Holy Name Society, the exposition of the sacrament, but Fr. Smith took occasion to thank all those who had contributed so generously toward the decoration of the altar for the services.

The musical program was one of rare excellence and its very successful rendition reflects great credit on John J. Kelly, organist and director. The mass was that of Rev. J. E. Turner. At the offertory Rosini's "O Salutaris" was given in a very impressive manner by a trio composed of Mrs. Frank Golden, and Messrs. Henry Curry and George Kerwin. The recessional was Gounod's "Unfold Ye Portals," which was rendered by the choir.

The convocation of the Sacred Heart was brought to a close at the evening services at 6:30 o'clock. The processional played by Mr. John J. Kelly was J. E. Works' "Prelude in F." The sanctuary choir sang "Sacred Heart, What Shall I Render Thee?" after which the mass was recited by Rev. B. J. Fletcher, O. M. I.

The sermon on the Sacred Heart was preached by Rev. T. Franklin Wood, O. M. I. The text chosen was from St. Matthew: "Come to me all who labor and are burdened and I will refresh you." It is a mark of the life which the spirit of God has breathed and continues to breathe into the Catholic church," said the preacher, "that she cannot remain unproductive or unfruitful, but is ever adding to the glory of God by her development in dogma and devotion. This indwelling of the Holy Spirit is evidenced by the fact that the ancient church has ever exhibited for adapting herself to the peculiar wants of every age. Reviewing briefly the history of the church, the speaker declared that it is the devotion of the church which illustrates most especially the perpetual presence of the Holy Spirit and the wonderful provision there is for the needs of every human heart. And no devotion is there which affords a more remarkable example of this divine principle than that for which the month of June is set apart. The devotion of the Sacred Heart of Jesus has been planted in the heart of the church in our age and especially adapted to the present spirit of the world and especially adapted to the present needs of the church."

The conclusion was a stirring appeal to dedicate themselves anew to the Heart which has loved men so much and to resolve to live in daily union with that Divine Heart which draws all things to itself.

After a hymn in honor of the Sacred Heart the procession was formed, led by the cross bearer and ecclesiastics, followed by the little girls of the first communion and confirmation classes, then the boys of the classes and the sanctuary choir and altar boys and the clergymen. Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O. M. I., celebrant, and Revs. T. F. Wood and J. B. O'Brien, O. M. I., deacons. Very Rev. F. Wade Smith, O. M. I., pastor, recited the requiem. During benediction, which was given immediately after the procession, Verdi's "Jesu Del Vici" was sung by a trio: Miss K. Hickey and Messrs. Curry and Kerwin. Miss Marietta Nolan sang as a soprano solo, Millard's "Ave Verum." When, at the conclusion of all the clear, childish voices of the sanctuary of the church, where extensive repairs have been made during the winter months.

St. Peter's

Rev. John F. Burns sang high mass at St. Peter's yesterday and Rev. W. George Mullin preached a sermon on the gospel of the day.

Next Saturday will be the first communion day of the children of the parish.

St. John's Church

The masses at St. John's church were celebrated yesterday morning at 7:30 and 9:30 by the pastor, Rev. Fr. Schofield. At each mass prayers were offered up for Judge Schofield, who died in Malden the past week and was a first cousin of the pastor. Announcement was also made that the picnic of St. Catherine's parish will be held at Cameron's grove, Forge Village, next Saturday. It is the intention of many of the parishioners from St. John's to attend the affair. A sermon on the gospel of the day was preached by Fr. Schofield.

There was a very large attendance of children at the Sunday school session. Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was given at 3:30 by Rev. Fr. Doherty, after which the children of the first communion class were enrolled in the brown scapular by Fr. Schofield, assisted by Fr. Doherty. The rosary was also recited. The blessing of the relics then took place by Fr. Schofield. The Sunday school will close next Sunday for the summer vacation.

St. Andrew's Church

At St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, yesterday Rev. Thomas McCullough, O. M. I., who was ordained to the priesthood last week, sang his first high mass. There was a large congregation in attendance, and the sermon was delivered by the pastor, Rev. Edmund J. Cornell, O. M. I. At the conclusion of the mass, the young clergyman held an informal reception and pronounced his blessing upon a number of the parishioners.

Banner Blessed

A pretty ceremony took place yesterday afternoon at St. Jean Baptiste church, when the blessing of a new banner and two flags, an American and Canadian, for the Holy Family sodality of St. Joseph's parish took place. There was a large attendance present and the service closed with solemn benediction of the blessed sacrament.

The ceremony took place at four o'clock and opened with a brief address by the director of the sodality, Rev. Joseph Blais, O. M. I., who congratulated the members for the purchase of the fine silk banners and he was followed by Rev. Walter J. Plaisance, O. M. I., D. D., of Tewksbury, who delivered a very interesting sermon, taking as his text "The fight of the soul under the banner of the Cross against its enemies." The reverend gentleman dwelt upon his subject in a forceful manner and in the course of his remarks referred to the banners and flags of the sodality.

The office of compline was chanted by a choir of 25 voices under the direction of Mr. Frank Gourdeau with Mr. Joseph A. Bernard at the organ, and the banner and flags were blessed by Rev. Joseph Blais, O. M. I. The service closed with the benediction of the blessed sacrament, Rev. Fr. Blais officiating, he being assisted by Rev. Fr. Plaisance as deacon and Bro. Jalbert, O. M. I., of Tewksbury as sub-deacon. Mr. Jules Morissette sang in a charming manner Holden's "O Salutaris," while Gounod's "Ave Maria" was rendered in the voice by Mr. J. W. Paradis, Jr. The solos of the hymns were sustained by Messrs. Telephore Malo and Hermenegilde Marin.

At the Immaculate Conception church yesterday, the services were very elaborate as Rev. Joseph McCoy, O. M. I., who was ordained to the priesthood at the Cathedral in Boston Saturday by His Eminence, Cardinal O'Connell, celebrated his first mass at the 11 o'clock services. Rev. Edward Fox, O. M. I., was his assistant priest and Rev. Bro. James McCarlin, O. M. I., was deacon and Rev. Bro. Fallon, O. M. I., acted as sub-deacon. The latter is a brother of Bishop Fallon, of London, Ont., who was formerly provincial of the Oblate order in this district. A pleasing feature of the services was the fact that in the large congregation were the young celebrant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCoy, his sister Edith and cousin, Mrs. Maci, all of Alton, Pa. They occupied the first pew on the epistle side of the main aisle. In recognition of the occasion, the altar was lavishly decorated with flowers.

Rev. Lawrence Tighe, O. M. I., pastor, spoke on the fact that Rev. Fr. McCoy was officiating for the first time at the altar of God and offering anew the sacrifice of Calvary. Fr. Tighe referred to the duties of the priesthood, preaching the word of God, and celebrating holy mass. He referred also to the joy which must fill the heart of the young Levite on attaining the end of his long course of study and to the gratification felt by his parents and those dear to him at seeing him before the altar. Fr. Tighe welcomed Fr. McCoy to the order, in which he had a long and worthy life in the priesthood, and the reward spoken of by St. Paul when he had finished his career.

The choir, under the direction of Joseph P. Courtney, with Mrs. Hugh Walker organist, rendered a special musical program. At the offertory an "Ave Maria" was sung by a trio: Miss Margaret Walsh, Mr. Arthur J. McQuade and Mr. Courtney. After the mass Fr. McCoy gave his blessing to the congregation as a whole and then individually and all present went to the altar rail for the benediction.

At all the masses Fr. Tighe invited the parishioners to visit the basement

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Lines of Battle

SCANNED BY ROOSEVELT AND TAFT LEADERS

CHICAGO, June 17.—With but 24 hours intervening before the gavel falls, calling the republican national convention to order, Roosevelt and Taft leaders were this morning scanning their lines of battle.

Prominent men from many states were subjected to conference room interviews of a type known in police circles as the "third degree." Leaders whose lives have been spent in the "game" brought into play every artifice known to modern politics in their almost frantic efforts to swing the balance to Colonel Roosevelt or to President Taft. Men who were doggedly standing their ground were told when might happen to them, not only this year but in the years to come, unless they agreed to the program mapped out by the leaders.

Running through it all was the constantly recurring fact of the presence of Col. Roosevelt, himself leading his own fight with his own hands. It was a question in final analysis, as the day wore on, of whether the republican party is bigger than its controlling body, the national committee, or bigger than any individual candidate.

Summarized tersely, the situation is whether the republican "elephant" will respond to the vigorous digs of either of two drivers, one ordering it to the left and the other commanding it to turn to the right, or whether it will twist its trunk about each of the drivers in turn and hurl them aside to go its own way.

There were indications today that the last contingency is not impossible. In this connection it became apparent that the division of delegates between Col. Roosevelt and President Taft on the question of the nomination does not hold on any other question to come before the convention. This was shown plainly by the attitude of the Virginia delegation. Although practically all for the renomination of Pres. Taft, nine of the Virginia delegates declared they would vote to over-rule the action of the national committee in seating Taft delegates over Roosevelt delegates from California, Texas and Washington.

This sentiment among arriving delegates was seized upon quickly by Col. Roosevelt and his advisers, who have determined to attempt to break down President Taft's strength in the convention through the medium of preliminary ballots.

Want a Roll Call

The Roosevelt managers purpose to focus the fight the minute the convention has been called to order by precipitating a roll call in which only those delegates whose seats are undisputed by Colonel Roosevelt shall vote.

The Roosevelt men expect to achieve this end by demanding a roll call on the temporary chairmanship, or the first question that comes up before the convention. Then it is planned to have Governor Johnson of California cast the 26 votes for that state on the question. This action by Governor Johnson, it is expected will be objected to by the two delegates from the fourth Californian district. This juncture will be grasped by the Roosevelt forces for leaders as the one upon which to get the "expurgated" vote of delegates. The floor leader will move at once that the temporary roll as made up by the national committee be rejected and that a substitute roll, including the 70 or 80 delegates claimed by Col. Roosevelt be adopted. In thus submitting the matter of the disputed seats to the convention in bloc none of the delegates affected by the contests would vote on the question and the Roosevelt men believe that such a roll would give them the upper hand in the organization of the convention.

Victor Roosevelt, chairman of the national committee, became the storm center of this phase of the fight as soon as the plans of the Roosevelt leaders were perfected last night. In his capacity as chairman Mr. Roosevelt will call the convention to order and will decide whether to entertain or refuse the motion of the Roosevelt men to consider a second list of delegates.

The Roosevelt plan, it is held, is revolutionary and Mr. Roosevelt may insist on waiting for the report of the committee on credentials, which, usually, would not come up for consideration before Wednesday.

Confers With Roosevelt

Mr. Roosevelt conferred with Col. Roosevelt in person regarding this and other questions late last night, but is said to have declined to give an answer until he had further time in which to consider the matter.

The chairman held a conference with other members of the national committee today and it is said that the Roosevelt plan met with stubborn opposition. Members of the committee were reported to have insisted that the chairman follow the usual procedure and the strict rules of the committee in relation to temporary organization.

The Taft managers and members of the national committee favorable to the president held continued councils in efforts to evolve methods of blocking the scheme summarily.

Fears for the order of the convention were freely expressed and predictions of serious trouble were made frequently during the day. Officers in charge of the convention management extended the police arrangements and the sergeants-at-arms were given emergency instructions.

Excitement at the headquarters of both sides and in the hotels increased throughout the day and in some quarters city detectives and policemen were needed to prevent personal clashes between delegates whose anger swept beyond control.

An Exciting Day

The day was the most exciting that has preceded the opening of a republican national convention in many years. The atmosphere is tense with charges and rumors of varying kinds and leaders have worn themselves down to a point of physical exhaustion by almost ceaseless conferences and efforts to keep their state delegates in line.

Col. Roosevelt arranged for a reception this afternoon at which he hopes to meet everyone of the 1078 delegates to the convention. He plans to speak to each delegate personally. Tonight at the auditorium theatre he will be the principal figure at a mass meeting of his followers.

Early today Senator Borah of Idaho

finally and definitely was selected as the choice of the Roosevelt forces for temporary chairman in place of Gov. Hadley, because of his successful and clever fight in the Missouri republican state convention and before the national committee, was chosen as floor leader for the Roosevelt organization. It was said that Senator Borah was not consulted in regard to making the race against Senator Root for the temporary chairmanship and that the Idaho man is unprepared with a speech. For this reason, he asked to be relieved from officiating at tonight's Roosevelt mass meeting, but the Roosevelt leaders insisted that he appear at the theatre.

In addition to two candidates for the temporary chairmanship the Taft and Roosevelt forces prepared two distinct platforms for submission to the convention.

Preparing Platforms

The work of preparing for the platforms was continued through the day. James R. Garfield, in discussing the platform to be submitted by the Roosevelt organization declared that it would be progressive throughout but that the subject of the recall would be left to the individual states.

A Platt Andrew, assistant secretary of the treasury, arrived yesterday with the Rochester plank but others seemed to think that this should be amplified in the national platform.

That Taft forces announced that Senator Clark of Wyoming had been agreed on for chairman of the committee on rules and that Congressman Olmstead of Pennsylvania had been selected as parliamentarian of the convention.

60th ANNIVERSARY

OF WEDDING OBSERVED BY MR. AND MRS. BOUTHILLETTE

Mr. and Mrs. Dosthe Bouthillette, formerly of this city, observed the 60th anniversary of their wedding at Northampton Saturday, where for the past ten years they have made their home. The affair was attended by all the children of the venerable couple and by many of the grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Saturday morning a high mass was celebrated at the French Catholic church of Northampton and later the entire party repaired to the home of the aged couple, where a family dinner was served followed by a reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Bouthillette were married in Canada 60 years ago, and shortly afterward they came to the states. They lived in Lowell for a number of years, during which time Mr. Bouthillette was employed at the Lowell Machine shop. Ten years ago they moved to Northampton and have lived there since.

Attending the ceremony were Mr. and Mrs. Bouthillette's eight children, Wilfred of this city, Edmund of Northampton, Dosthe, Jr., of Canada, Mrs. Adelard Dubois of Canada, Pierre Berthiaume of Northampton, Miss Emma Bouthillette of Northampton, Mrs. Cyrille Descelles of Worcester and Mrs. Hector Harnois of Worcester. The couple, as above stated have eight children, 29 grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

COMPANY G ASSOCIATES REUNION

Business Meeting and Dinner at the New American Hotel

The 41st annual reunion of the members of the Old Company G Associates was held this afternoon at the New American hotel. The affair consisted of a dinner, followed by speeches from all those present and the election of officers for the coming year.

It will be 60 years next August that the company was mustered into the United States service after having been organized in this city. The Old Associates took part in many battles of the Civil war, but fortunately none of them lost their lives on the battlefield, although several were wounded.

There are now 34 living members of the company, 17 of whom were present at the annual reunion. Those are: Capt. George L. Cady, Lowell; Alonzo C. Groul, Exeter, N. H.; George T. Farbell, East Pepperell, Mass.; Franklin S. Peavey, Lowell; Henry C. Hutchingson, Lowell; James Christie, Lowell; William P. Farrington, Lowell; Albert T. Green, Lowell; George Healy, Newark, N. J.; Charles B. Kitchen, Lowell; S. Augustus Lentest, Wakefield; Andrew Liddell, Lowell; William A. Morris, Woburn, Mass.; Alfred A. Sawyer, Melrose Highlands; William H. Spalding, Lowell; Albert S. Stockpole, West Lebanon, Me.; and Samuel E. Stearns, Three Rivers, Mass.

The present officers of the company are: Franklin S. Peavey, president; Capt. George L. Cady, vice president; William H. Spalding, secretary; Andrew Liddell, treasurer; Henry C. Hutchingson, James Christie, William P. Farrington, Albert T. Green and Charles B. Kitchen, executive committee.

At the conclusion of the meal President Franklin S. Peavey addressed the gathering in brief terms explaining the purpose of the meeting and the needs of the organization. He also called upon the members of the organization to pay a tribute to the member who passed away last year, Comrade Geo. C. Perry of Boston, and a silent toast was given in memory of one whom all knew and held in high esteem. The toastmaster then called upon every one present for a few remarks and all responded cheerfully, relating wartime reminiscences. The affair closed with a business meeting, during which election of officers was held and routine business transacted.

CAPT. GEO. L. CADY,

ANNUAL REUNION

OF MANNING FAMILY ASSOCIATION HELD AT BILLERICA

The annual reunion of the Manning family association was held today at the Manning manse in Billerica. As usual there was a large attendance scores of the Mannings and their relatives being present, many having come from long distances. Shortly after noon an excellent dinner was served on the spacious lawn after which a business meeting was held and speeches followed.

Exterior and Interior of Fifth Regiment Armory

Where the Democratic Convention Will be Held

Exterior and interior of Fifth regiment armory, Baltimore, scene of Democratic national convention.

Far more than the republican convention at Chicago the democratic assemblage at Baltimore will be a gathering of the clans. With voice and musical instruments the adherents of "favorite sons" in every section of the United States will sound the praises of their respective candidates. There has been no such sharp division between two leading aspirants as there has been in the republican gathering, with two or at most three other men mentioned for the top of the ticket.

Democrats have been called upon to divide their admiration among several men, of varying degrees of strength, of course, but all possessing the quality of possibility. To the mind of the un-biased spectator, if such there be, the race for the democratic nomination, at any rate up to within a few days of the assembling of the delegates, has been one in which any one of several contestants had a chance.

Let us take up the claims of these men. To avoid giving offense to any adherent of any one of them we will take them in alphabetical order. No man or his follower can object to the precedence granted by the fact that one's name begins with B rather than with W. So we'll start with Governor Simon E. Baldwin of Connecticut, a man of learning and experience, whose claims to the democratic nomination, it was reported, would be presented by State Senator Archibald McNeil of Bridgeport, Conn., 27 years old and probably the youngest man ever named as likely to set forth the fame of an aspirant for the presidency. Wherever legal luminaries gather Gov. Baldwin is known as a man of light and leading in the law. Until his elevation to the executive chair of Connecticut in 1910 he was chief justice of the state supreme court of errors. He is the oldest of the men mentioned prominently. Gov. Baldwin was born in 1846.

The turn of the alphabetical wheel brings us round now to William Jennings Bryan of Nebraska. Nothing need be said here of Mr. Bryan's record, brought out in sharp distinctness in his three former candidacies for the presidency. Until a short time before the opening of the convention he had not said that he would decline the nomination this year, but he had done nothing to further the desires of his friends and had, in fact, withdrawn his name in several places in which he had been mentioned. But he was and is a power in the party on which he has made so great an impression.

John Burke, governor of North Dakota, is next in order. His principal claims to recognition are a good record (in the minds of his followers, of course) as governor of North Dakota, and an indorsement as the "favorite son" of his state. But few before the convention days believed that he had a chance for the first place on the ticket.

The letter C now draws near, and with it comes Champ Clark, speaker of the house of representatives and a leading candidate for the democratic nomination ever since talk began of 1912. He has been gathering delegates for months. Christened James Beauchamp Clark, he soon dropped the James and the first syllable of the Beauchamp, and Champ Clark he will remain to the end of the chapter. Speaker Clark's activities have been almost entirely legislative, and he ranks as one of the best parliamentarians and legislators of the time. He is a bluff, hearty Missourian, possessing the confidence of the majority members of the present house of representatives, which is controlled by his party. His campaign has been managed by former Sen. Fred T. Dubois of Idaho. Among Speaker Clark's most earnest supporters has been William R. Hearst.

G stands for Gaynor, William J. by name, mayor of New York, and a man of wide fame. Outside of the Empire state few know of the years spent by Gaynor on the supreme court bench of his state. He made a reputation in his early manhood for fighting graft and corruption. Now he stands out in New York and elsewhere as the occupant of the mayor's chair of the country's biggest city. He quotes Epictetus, and the country smiles, and he denounces evil conditions in city life and the country listens with attention. To little children seeking redress for some of the grievances of crowded streets he is sweet as summer. To those who seek him for unearned favors he is gruff as Eternity. Some folks call him a cautious old man, but he is only 60 and is able to do much good work yet.

Harmon of Ohio has loomed up several times as a presidential possibility, especially this year, in spite of the open antagonism of William Jennings Bryan and others. To his credit stand two victories in gubernatorial elections of Ohio, the "mother of republican presidents." He is a lawyer of wide learning and served the nation as attorney general in the last Cleveland cabinet. His opponents allege that his early manhood for fighting graft and corruption, but his friends counterbalance these accusations with his unquestioned personal honesty, his firmness, and his capacity for work.

Now come we to Gov. Thomas R. Marshall of Indiana, another of the numerous "favorite sons" in the democratic race. Indiana democrats like him and made no bones of saying so in their state convention. He is a man of engaging personality, a lawyer by training, like all of the democratic possibilities, and two years on the good side of sixty. He never held office before his election as governor of his state in 1905.

The men remain, Underwood and Wilson. The former is the youngest of the nine who are under consideration. He was 50 years old on May 6. His talents have shone before the public as a legislator, for he has been a member of the house of representatives from the Ninth Alabama district for 17 years. He is a quiet, silent worker, with a reputation for industry earned in committee service. His party members thought so well of him that when they came into control of the house of representatives they made him chairman of the most important committee, that on ways and means.

"The Scholar in Politics." Gov. Woodrow Wilson has been recently the leading example of "the scholar in politics," very much in politics, in fact. Democratic leaders throughout the country have been desirous of hearing what the democratic governor of New Jersey and former president of Princeton university has had to say on the questions of the time. He has obligingly responded by accepting as many of the invitations as he could. He is a lawyer, lecturer and historian and probably knows as much about politics from the theoretical viewpoint as any other man in America. In recent years he has also picked up a good deal of information about the practical side of the political game.

Most of the work of preparing for the big democratic convention in the Fifth Regiment armory, buildings in Baltimore, with its 1922 delegates, a large number of alternates and 15,000 or more spectators, has devolved on Norman E. Mack of New York, chairman of the democratic national committee, and on the committee's secretary, Urey Woodson of Kentucky. The sergeant-at-arms, on whom rests the burden of doing most of the actual work of making the arrangements for the convention, is John I. Martin of St. Louis, who has held a similar post in every national convention since that of 1892, which nominated Bryan the first time.

Bigger Than the Chicago Coliseum

The democratic convention hall is bigger than the Chicago coliseum, selected for the gathering place of the republicans. It will probably hold 20,000 persons when the temporary chairman and permanent chairman sound the keynotes of the campaign. The structure is built of granite and is surmounted by a vaulted roof which rises 105 feet above the main floor. It differs from the coliseum in having two balconies instead of one, and its acoustic properties are said to be better than those of the Chicago hall. There are 21 company rooms grouped in suites and arranged so as to make admirable meeting places for committees, etc. The armory is situated in the northern part of the city, within easy walking distance of the Baltimore & Ohio and Pennsylvania stations. It is not in the business section of the city, but can be reached from there by a short street car ride.

Two-Thirds Rule at Baltimore

Unlike the republican rule, which requires a majority vote for the selection of a candidate to run for president, the democrats believe that a two-thirds vote is better. There will be 1032 delegates at the convention, so that Clark, Wilson, Harmon, Underwood, Bryan or some one else must get 728 votes before he can be named as the standard bearer of his party. There has been considerable opposition to the working of this rule, as well as to the large number of delegates, and it was predicted not long ago that determined efforts would be made to have the convention adopt the plan of letting a majority of the delegates name the candidate.

Representative Hurlston of Texas is sponsor for one plan that has been proposed. If his views prevail there will be heretofore one delegate from each congressional district, but a district represented by a democrat will be entitled to an additional delegate. If a state is represented in the senate by two democratic senators it shall have four delegates at large to the convention. If by one republican and one democrat, it shall have three at large, and if represented by two republicans, only two delegates at large. The representation for a territory will be the same as for a state at large.

SALOON WAS DENOUNCED BY REV. N. T. WHITAKER

Rev. M. B. Lytle Says Baseball Pools Will Ruin the Great American Game

At the Central Methodist church, Sunday morning, Rev. N. T. Whitaker spoke on "Woman's War," declaring that "slavery was a mere baby compared to the wrong of intemperance." He said that the licensed saloon is woman's worst enemy and that the United States government defends the liquor traffic. He arraigned the reported influence of liquor interests in the running of our municipal government and declared that the verse in the old Testament which reads "Woe unto them that build their cities with blood," was as true today as it was centuries ago.

First Baptist Church
"Be of good cheer, I have overcome the world," from John's gospel, the 33d verse, was the starting point of Rev. Mr. Cummings' sermon on "The Gospel of Good Cheer," at the First Baptist church last night. One of the principal questions of life, he said, is how are we to overcome the world? Life is a tremendous struggle. The forces of the world are lined up against us and it is for us to meet them as they come,

John clearly defines three of them. He says they are: The lusts of the flesh, the lusts of the eyes and the pride of life. Since Samson's time, many men have fallen like him through the sin of gratifying the lowest passions, love of luxury, of ease and of money. Many others have fallen through the lust of the eye, coveting and striving to possess the property of others, and those things that it is not right to have. Pride, the love of power, of gaining unearned prominence is the third of the evil forces of life. John warns against these perils and tells of one who helps us to overcome all of them, and to animate our lives that they shall vibrate with good cheer. No man can fight the world and win in his own strength. But through Christ, thousands of men are making the fight successfully. He develops the highest manhood and keeps down the lusts of life. With him life may be a song of triumph and of conquest over all evil. This is the gospel of good cheer.

St. Paul's M. E. Church
At St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday night the pastor, Rev. M. B. Lytle, declared that the baseball pools would ruin the great American game of baseball. He said that he has been in Lowell but a short time and he knows all about the baseball pools. He says everybody in town knows about them. He compared the ball pools to the Louisiana lottery, and before he finished, the congregation realized that the pastor knew something about the great American game. He named several of the teams in the big leagues and mentioned the name of Wolfgang. "There are two great reasons why I am against pools," he said. "They hurt the great American game of baseball, of which I am an admirer. I used to play it, and, although I don't get to games very often nowadays, I still hold my love for the game. It is a very clean sport. It gives many thousands of business and professional men opportunities to go into the fresh air and enjoy clean recreation. It acts as a safety valve for those who work very hard at confining labors. Horse racing used to be a general sport, but it was killed by the persistence of gamblers in doing business where it was held. And so will pool selling destroy baseball, unless a halt is called. It will bring this game into bad repute, a game which is healthful, clean, and which deserves something far better. Managers declare, and I can believe them, that pool selling hurts the game, and that they will do all in their power to stop it.

"My second reason for being against this pernicious system is that it is corrupting the morals of our young, and doing incalculable harm in many homes. But youths aren't the only ones affected. I heard the other day of a woman over 50 years of age who was persuaded to invest a small amount of money each week in pools, and who now each night goes to the bulletin boards with her little book and notes down the runs scored by the teams. Think of it, and feel ashamed for any person of such age engaging in such a business!"

Chelmsford Street Baptist
The children's day concert given by the members of the Sunday school of the Chelmsford Street Baptist church, Sunday night, pleased a large audience. Miss Mabel C. Lang had personal charge of the program, which consisted of the following numbers:

Song, Scripture: song by chorus; address of welcome, Reta MacFadyen; "Share and Have," Hazel Durrell, Viola Wordsworth and Laura Valiere; "Children's Day," Lillian Durrell; song, chorus, "What It Was Meant For," Cedric Stanley; "Like the Birds," Louise Whitney and Jeanne Chapman; "We are Apart," Pearl Chamberlain; "The Glow," Ella Plummer; song, Evelyn Renshaw; "Turn Your Back to the Shadows," Mabel MacFadyen; "The Lambs of the Flock," Marjorie Chapman, Esther Mollay, Evelyn Harmon, Ruth Whitney, Helen Davis and Marion Bruce; "Merry Birds," George Day; song, kindergarten; "Buttercups and Children," Clarice Klitredge; "The Children," Lena Valore and Dorothy Bassell; "The Little Ones," Anna Zeslitz; recitation, Vincent Hill; song, quartet; collection, song, "Common Things God Gives Us," Gladys Dugdale, Evelyn Renshaw, Alice Valore, Lillian Riley and Viola Badington; recitation, Warren Perkins; "Baby's Rose," Josie MacFadyen; "Jesus Lamb," Roland Hurd and Louise MacFadyen; song, Josie MacFadyen and Helen MacFadyen; "A Recipe for Children's Day," Gladys Henderson, Hazel Henderson and Dorothy Dickens; "The Flowers," Edith MacKelman; song, primary class; "Summer's Dawning," Harry Schurder, Mary Dugdale, Marian Dorr and Clara Bruce; recitation, Gladys Brick; "Ten Commandments," graduating class; song, quartet; "The Harvest Call," William Ramsay, Roberta Lawless and Frank Harmon; recitation, Ruth Keonig; "The Violet and the Dewdrop," Helen MacFadyen; song, chorus.

ANNUAL OUTING OF THE OLNEY CHEMICAL ALUMNI HELD SATURDAY

The fifth annual outing of the Olney Chemical alumni of the Lowell Textile school was held Saturday at Hampton beach. The members of the organization met at the Ocean house and marched to the Casino for dinner, after which a bowling match was held. Immediately after the bowling a base ball game was held in the rear of the Casino. Teams were made up of members of the alumni and residents or vacationists of Hampton. A general good time was enjoyed by all and the meeting was pronounced a thorough success by those attending. The members present were as follows: Hugh Christison of Methuen, president; Isaac Williamson of Lowell; J. Henry Shackleton of Lawrence; Frederick M. Silk of Lowell; Harry Buckley of Methuen; Peter O'Neill of Lawrence; Samuel Smith of Methuen; Stephen W. Hason of Nashua, N. H.; Charles L. J. Hebert of Lowell; Foster G. Heaton of Lowell; Thomas Kidd of Lowell; H. Stewart Redman of Lowell.

Hard in First Game—Blum
Looks Good

The double header between Lowell and New Bedford at the latter city on Saturday afternoon resulted in the Whalers taking the first game by the score of 8 to 7, and the second going 10 innings with no choice, each team scoring three runs.

In the first game Lowell used three pitchers, but the Whalers did great stick work. Lowell presented a new pitcher in the person of Blum, who formerly pitched for Fall River. Maybom started the game for Lowell and pitched great ball up to the seventh inning, when he weakened. He was yanked and Zeller sent in. The latter was off and gave a base on balls and then allowed a hit, which tied the score. In the eighth inning, after Zeller had killed up the racks, he was sent to the bench and Blum took up the task. He pitched fine ball, but the damage was done. The score:

SECOND GAME
Blum was sent in to work for Lowell in the second game and he did fine work. Errors gave New Bedford two runs in the second, but Lowell came to the front in their half of the third, when De Groff planted the ball over the fence with two men on. New Bedford then got one more on an error by the Lowell captain, tying the score. The game was scheduled to go seven innings by agreement, but as neither team could get another run in went 10 innings and was called off on account of darkness. Though both teams had several good opportunities to score there was nothing doing. The game was a corker and showed one good thing, and that is that this boy Blum is some twister. The score:

MAN AND WOMAN ACCUSED
OF ASSAULTING POLICEMANSerious Charge May be Made
Against Patrick Roarke—
Other Cases Heard

There was a variety of cases brought to the attention of Judge Pickman in police court this morning, but several of them were postponed until a future date.

Assaulted Two Officers
Michael and Annie Polaski were charged with drunkenness and assault and battery on a police officer, but to look at Mike would cause one to think that he was the party assaulted. His head was swathed in a large bandage while the front of his shirt indicated that he must have lost a large amount of blood.

There was a mixup in Davidson street last night and when Mike and Annie were being placed under arrest they objected and started to put up a battle, but the fight proved to be a short one and the pair were soon subdued and enjoying a ride in the police patrol.

At the request of counsel the cases were continued until Wednesday morning.

Larceny from Poor Man's Friend
Thomas Brown, according to his own admission on the stand in court this morning, stole $5 from John McManus, the poor man's friend and orphan's protector, and just for that "Mac" had the man arrested. It would appear from the testimony that Brown went to McManus' office and said he was in need of $5. John wanted some security whereupon Brown said that he had pay coming to him in one of the local mills. The necessary papers were made out and John passed over the $5.

When the constable tried to secure the pay he lent that Brown had no pay coming to him. Inasmuch as the man has a wife and two children dependent upon him Mr. McManus was inclined to be lenient and it was agreed to have the man given a suspended sentence of two months in jail and placed on probation for one month. In the meantime it is expected that Brown will make restitution.

Neglected His Wife
John E. Fay pleaded guilty to drunkenness and neglecting to provide proper support of his wife, Rose. The wife testified that when her husband was not drinking he was a good man and gave her every cent of his pay. Fay promised to do better in the future and the court placed him on probation for three months.

Drunken Offenders
Mary Dean, an aged woman, was sentenced to the state farm and Margaret McLoughlin was given a similar sentence.

William J. Joyal, Thomas J. Donnelly, Thomas P. Barry and Bernard McArchie were each ordered to pay a fine of $5.
John P. Foye, Henry E. Griswold and Joseph B. Flynn, Sunday drunks, were fined $5 each.
James Roarke was sentenced to four months in jail.
There were three first offenders who were fined $2 each and 14 simple drunks were released.

LOWELL HIGH TEAM WON GAME
From Haverhill High by
Score of 8 to 7 in
Fine Game

The game between Lowell and Haverhill high school teams at Washington park Saturday afternoon was one of the most exciting ever seen at the park. The visitors had the game well at hand, but a grand rally by the home team in the 8th inning, when 4 runs were scored, turned apparent defeat into a grand victory. The final score was: Lowell 8, Haverhill 7.

Haverhill got one run in the second inning, but the Lowell boys took the lead in their half of the fourth. In the sixth, the visitors got three runs which gave them a two to one lead. Lowell came back in their half getting three, which gave them a lead of one run. Again the visitors banged the pill in good style in the seventh and accumulated three more, putting them to the front. The great rally by Lowell in the eighth, in which the quartet of runs were made gave Lowell the game.

Each team had a half a dozen errors, but the game was very interesting and when the Lowell boys jumped into the lead in the eighth they were given a great hand and there was enthusiasm galore. Capt. Cawley of the locals played a great game at third and was also there with the stick, getting two fine singles. Starter and Desmond were the other shining lights on the Lowell team. Newbegin was the star batter for the visitors, doing the best hitting of the game. He got three very timely swats at the pill. Fishburn and Sanborn also did fine work for Haverhill. The score:

THE STILES INQUIRY PROVES LIVELY ONE

Alderman Barrett and Lawyer Donahue Engage in Battle of Words

The hearing on the charges brought by Ald. Barrett against City Treasurer Stiles was resumed before the municipal council Saturday afternoon.

Before the hearing opened Ald. Barrett asked permission of the city council to purchase two automobile runabouts for the assistant chiefs of the fire departments, the machines to be purchased through the purchasing agent's office. The council voted to allow the purchase. Mr. Barrett said the machines would drive their own machines, instead of having drivers as at the present time.

Ald. Brown asked permission to buy an automobile for his timekeeper, Mr. Hartwell. He thought that the purchase of a machine would reduce expenses and that a suitable automobile could be purchased for about $700. His motion for the purchase of the machine was not seconded.

The Stiles Hearing

The Stiles hearing was then resumed and Alderman Barrett made a comparison of interest paid on loans for the purpose of showing that money was borrowed at excessive rates of interest, and that, he said, was responsible for the great burden that had been put upon the people of Lowell.

He said he did not believe the city treasurer had any right to pay out money for any other purpose than that for which it was appropriated. He said that such action tended to confuse the people of Lowell and kept them in absolute ignorance of the real financial condition.

In reply to a question by Mr. Hennessy, Alderman Barrett said that if anyone wanted to learn anything of the financial condition of the city of Lowell the information should be obtainable at the office of the city treasurer.

Alderman Barrett stated that Mr. Stiles had claimed right along that the Huntington hall money was intact.

City's Debt Limit

He also claimed that the city treasurer told the city council that the city was $300,000 beyond its debt limit.

"From all the information I had before the report of the expert accountant was published, I was satisfied that no special effort had been made to collect the city's bills," said Alderman Barrett, "and I believe that great negligence was shown." In corroboration of his statement, Mr. Barrett read from the report of Mr. Rex.

Mr. Barrett asked the city treasurer if the real estate tax on the Booth property in School street for 1911 had been paid.

Mr. Stiles said he couldn't tell, off hand, but he said he would find out and supply the information later. It was found that the tax had been paid.

Taxes Not Paid

Ald. Barrett then asked if it had been paid in 1910 and it was stated that these taxes had not been paid.

In regard to overpayments and supplementary taxes, Mr. Barrett claimed $172,000 appropriated for overpayments had been misapplied. He said supplementary taxes means taxes that are uncovered after the general assessment has been made. He said that the money was spent without the consent of the city council.

Money Not Accounted For

He called attention to the fact that the city auditor said in his report for 1910 that there was something like $148,000 in overpayments that had not been properly accounted for.

Three orders representing the $54,000 received as insurance money on Huntington hall were submitted by the city collector.

"I suggest if your honor please," said Mr. Hennessy, "that the best evidence of the conduct of the city treasurer's office should come from Mr. Stiles himself and he asked to be allowed to examine Mr. Stiles, not as part of his case, but to get information relative to the conduct of his office."

Mr. Donahue Objects

Mr. Donahue objected on the grounds that the proper procedure would be for him to cross-examine Mr. Barrett.

This was agreed to and Mr. Donahue proceeded to the cross examination of the alderman.

"You were a member of the government of last year and a member of the committee on accounts," asked Mr. Donahue.

"I was," replied Mr. Barrett.

"Did you take any pains to find out what opportunity the treasurer had to know the conditions?"

"I knew that the city treasurer was responsible for the money he received and distributed."

"Do you want the people of Lowell to understand that any money was spent illegally by Mr. Stiles?"

Mr. Donahue wanted an answer, yes or no, but Mr. Barrett said as member of the city council he would answer as he thought best.

Did Not Charge Dishonesty

"I have not charged Mr. Stiles," he said, "with dishonesty. I am not making any statements about that," said Mr. Barrett.

Mayor O'Donnell said that Ald. Barrett should answer the questions as to whether or not Mr. Stiles had appropriated any of the city's money to his own use.

Mr. Barrett said he had not made that direct charge, and said it should not be dragged in at this time. "I have at no time charged Mr. Stiles with misappropriating the Nesmith and Tyler funds. The Huntington hall fund is the fund that I am interested in."

A Sharp Exchange

There was a warm interchange of words in which Alderman Barrett told

Mr. Donahue that he must not attempt to put words into his mouth.

Mr. Donahue referred to Mr. Rex's blackboard statement and questions asked by him were objected to by the city collector.

He said it was quite improper to bring in the Nesmith or Tyler funds because they had not been referred to by Mr. Barrett.

"The statements on that blackboard are based on supposition," said Mr. Hennessy. "It is nothing but a hypothetical proposition and has nothing to do with this case."

Mr. Donahue said that the blackboard figures were permissible especially because they were first used to question the correctness of Mr. Rex's report. Ald. Barrett proceeded to question Mr. Donahue relative to the figures on the blackboard and there was some difference of opinion as to their meaning.

"I want to say that Mr. Donahue's information and figures are absolutely incorrect," said Ald. Barrett.

Replying to Ald. Brown, Mr. Donahue said he proposed to show that the Huntington hall money is intact.

Ald. Barrett moved that the hearing be adjourned to Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock and that Mr. Rex be summoned to appear here at that time.

"If the council is honest," said Ald. Barrett, "the council will vote in accordance with my motion."

"Why does the alderman insist upon injecting the word honest?" said Ald. Cummings. "We are all supposed to be honest and I object to that peculiar reference."

"Ald. Cummings should not be so thin skinned; he should not take things to himself in the manner in which he does."

"I do object and I want to hear no more of it," retorted Mr. Cummings. "I apologize to you Mr. Cummings."

"I never before have witnessed such barefaced duplicity as that expressed by the alderman who has just taken his seat," said Mr. Barrett.

Alderman Brown said that Mr. Rex had said that loan balances could not be touched and that if money was required the only avenue open and the only money available was the Huntington hall money.

"I have been a member of this and other governments and I have seen a great deal of men's actions in government and committee meetings, but I never before have witnessed such barefaced duplicity as that expressed by the alderman who has just taken his seat," said Mr. Barrett.

It was finally voted that when the hearing adjourned to adjourn to Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

EX-SENATOR LAKE YOUNG

CHICAGO, June 17.—Former Senator Lake Young of Iowa, recently defeated in the primaries by Senator Kenyon, has come out for Senator Cummins.

Three orders representing the $54,000 received as insurance money on Huntington hall were submitted by the city collector.

"I suggest if your honor please," said Mr. Hennessy, "that the best evidence of the conduct of the city treasurer's office should come from Mr. Stiles himself and he asked to be allowed to examine Mr. Stiles, not as part of his case, but to get information relative to the conduct of his office."

MAYOR O'DONNELL REWARDS OFFICERS

For Capture of an Unknown Burglar

In recognition and appreciation of their good work in capturing a burglar a few days ago, Mayor O'Donnell has ordered that Patrolmen Michael and Patrick Connolly be allowed two extra holidays. The mayor's letter to the superintendent of police, relative to the matter, is as follows:

Lowell, Mass., June 15, 1912.
Redmond Welch, Superintendent of Police.
Dear Sir: As a mark of appreciation of the good work of Patrolmen Michael and Patrick Connolly, in the capture of one Morrison or Morrissey, on the morning of June 11, I hereby direct that each be given two days' additional vacation, without loss of pay, such vacation to be taken so as not to interfere with the regular working schedule of the department.
(Signed) James E. O'Donnell,
Mayor and Commissioner of Public Safety.

FRANK CAMPBELL
CONFINED TO HOSPITAL AS RESULT OF ACCIDENT
Frank Campbell, 17 years of age, son of Mrs. Mary Campbell, 42 Marion street, is in the Lowell hospital as the result of an accident that occurred a week ago Sunday while he was in company with other boys out in Chelmsford. One of the boys named James Pool had a revolver in his hand and while leading, it was accidentally discharged and the bullet entered young Campbell's wrist. Campbell was taken to the Middlesex Transit school nearby where the wound was temporarily dressed and later he went to the Lowell hospital where an X-ray examination was made. It was found that the bullet was so lodged in the wrist that it was dangerous to probe for it on account of it being so close to the arteries of the wrist. Campbell is still under medical attendance and everything will be done to save his arm. Young Campbell was employed in the Field, Lumber Shoe Co., West Adams street.

BODY OF GIRL WAS FOUND IN RIVER AT LAWRENCE

LAWRENCE, June 17.—The body of Margaret Hopkins, aged 22 years, of 37 Lexington street, was found floating in the Spicket river, near her home yesterday afternoon. The young woman had been ill since January and was seen yesterday wandering around in the vicinity of the river, as if deranged.
Her disappearance was reported to the police Saturday night and yesterday afternoon her body was found. She leaves three brothers, one of whom is a well known member of the Lawrence fire department.

NEW SYSTEM OF CHECKING BAGGAGE ADOPTED BY B. & M. ROAD

A new system of checking baggage has been adopted by the Boston and Maine railroad that according to Baggage-master Goss at the local station will be a great improvement and time saver. Heretofore, all checks were put into brass shells, and as it was necessary to attach the shell with a strap considerable time was consumed. The new check is called a string check. This is attached to the baggage with a string and saves a great deal of time. "Another advantage of the new check," Mr. Goss said, "is that as the brass check is very heavy and pointed at the corners it did considerable damage, when it struck a trunk or suit case. With the new one though, this cannot happen."

FOR LIFE INSURANCE Novel Plan at Am. Hide and Leather Co.

One of the earliest savings bank insurance agencies established was at the American Hide & Leather Company in this city and since its establishment, this agency has been under the efficient care of Mr. George F. Howes. There are now 43 policyholders and $15,311 of insurance in force.

Arrangements are under way to establish a Mutual Benefit Association at the American Hide & Leather company among the employees. This association will provide for a sick benefit of $5.00 per week and a death benefit of $100.00 for each member. This death benefit is to be cared for by an insurance policy issued by one of the insurance departments of the savings banks. Mr. Charles F. Hall, vice-president of the company, has generously offered to contribute $500 a year to the funds of such an association. Already more than 100 of the employees have signed their desire to become members of this association and indications are that a Mutual Benefit Association of from 400 to 500 members will be formed.

WOMAN DROWNED

HER COMPANION WAS RESCUED BY TWO MEN

A drowning accident occurred yesterday when Mrs. Frank S. Pierce of Cambridge lost her life in White pond, Pelham. Mrs. Pierce and a friend, Mrs. R. H. Alfred Pomerleau of Lawrence jumped into the water from a boat nearby and with the assistance of Police Inspector Wilson of Revere rescued Mrs. Houdlette. Mrs. Pierce sank immediately.

PROF. GOODWIN

NOTED CLASSICAL SCHOLAR AND TEACHER DEAD

BOSTON, June 17.—Prof. William Watson Goodwin, retired, author of the "Greek Moods and Tenses," passed away quietly at his home, 5 Follen street, Cambridge, late Saturday night. He had been ill a month with heart trouble. He was 81 years old.
Born in 1831, at Concord, graduated in 1851 at Harvard, made Eliot professor of Greek literature just before the beginning of 1891, he retired with the close of the academic year 1901. A lifelong student of the classics and an exponent of the Hellenic culture, his scholarship was profound and his industry untiring.
Prof. Goodwin studied at Bonn, Berlin and Göttingen, and was tutor at Harvard from 1855 till his appointment as a full professor.

RAPID GROWTH

IN THE EXPORTS TO SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Exports to South America have shown a phenomenal gain in the fiscal year which ends with the present month. Prior to 1911 the total value of exports to South America had never reached 100 million dollars. In 1911, the total was, speaking in round terms, 100 million dollars, and in the current fiscal year, which ends with the present month, seems likely to be about 135 million dollars, having more than doubled since 1905.

Argentina is the country showing by far the largest gain in our exports to South America. The figures now available in the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor indicate that the total exports to Argentina for the complete fiscal year will amount to about $5 million dollars, against 23½ million in 1905, having thus considerably more than doubled in the period in question. To Brazil the total exports for the fiscal year will exceed 20 million dollars in value, against 11 million in 1905, an even larger percentage of gain than in the case of Argentina. To Chile the total for the year will amount to about 15 million dollars, against $4 million in 1905, also a gain of nearly 200 per cent. To Uruguay the figures of exports for the fiscal year, which open with the present month will aggregate about 7 million dollars in value, against a little less than 2 million, in 1905.

This increase in exports to South America, while occurring in a large number of articles, is especially notable in lumber, leather, mineral oils and railway material. For example, the exports of lumber to Argentina in the 10 months ending with April last, amounted to $4 million dollars in value, against 4 million in the corresponding months of last year, and those to other South America 3 million dollars, against about 2 million in the corresponding period of the preceding year. Illuminating oil exported to Argentina in the 10 months in question amounted to about 24 million gallons, against about 13 million in the corresponding months a year ago; and lubricating oil, over 4 million gallons, against less than 2 million in the same months of last year. Glazed kid leather exported to Argentina in the 10 months of 1912 amounted to over 1 million dollars in value, against 370 thousand dollars in the corresponding months of the preceding year. Automobiles exported to South America as a whole amounted in the 10 months in question to 1½ million dollars in value, against 633 thousand dollars in the corresponding months of the preceding year.

The total value of exports from the United States to South America as a whole was, ten years ago, in the fiscal year 1902, 35 million dollars. Five years ago, in the fiscal year 1907, it was $2 million dollars, and in the current year, as indicated above, will probably be about 135 million dollars, an increase of more than 250 per cent in the decade, and of more than 50 per cent in the last five years.

CRUSHED TO DEATH BY FALLING STEEPLE

Priest and Two Men Lost Their Lives

ZANESVILLE, O., June 17.—Three were killed and a score or more injured yesterday when a tornado caused the steeple of St. Thomas Catholic church to crash through the roof while services were in progress.

The Rev. D. R. Roach was struck and killed while administering the last sacraments as 500 of the congregation were fleeing.

Thomas Skinion's head was crushed by falling stone and he was instantly killed.

Father Roach met death while administering the last sacraments to Skinion after the priest had directed the panic-stricken worshippers to leave by a rear door, their lives being imperiled by falling walls in front.

The storm cut a path about a block wide through the town.

More than 600 houses were badly damaged and 50 families were rendered homeless. Scores of narrow escapes were reported.

POLICEMEN WERE INJURED DURING RIOTING IN BOSTON

Car Was Attacked on Eliot Street
—Ten Arrests Were Made—
Police Charge Crowd

BOSTON, June 17.—Eliot street, between Park square and Tremont street, just after the big labor mass meeting on Boston common was finished, late yesterday afternoon, was the scene of riotous disorders. A car turning into Eliot street from Tremont street was mobbed, bell ropes and trolley rope cut, passengers nearly pulled from their seats, and missiles of various kinds hurled.

The motorman stood on the front seat and swung an iron switch stick by way of self-protection. The conductor, on the rear platform, drew and leveled a loaded revolver.

In 15 minutes the reserves of Station 4, who were rushed to the scene, had made 10 arrests, three of them for assault and battery.

The conductor of the car was hit by missiles and several policemen and many of the crowd received minor injuries. There was a good deal of stones thrown from houses on both sides of the street. The hisses and cheers of the crowd could be heard blocks away. It was the most serious disturbance of the strike so far.

Patrolman Hartigan of Division 4 was so badly hurt that he had to be taken to his home. He was struck in the back of the head by a ball of sand that someone seized from the car platform.

Sgt. Bradley C. Mason of Division 16 was hit in the face by a stick, Patrolman J. A. Sullivan of Division 4 was hit on the head with an iron pipe, receiving a scalp wound, and Patrolman Thomas E. Harvey of Division 4 was kicked in the abdomen. They were tested by a doctor in Station 4.

Hundreds Go to Eliot Street
When the common meeting ended the major portion of the crowd drifted almost as if by prearrangement, toward Eliot street. Some went by way of Park square and the rest by Carter street.

The crowd blocked Eliot street from Tremont street to Park square. Efforts of the police from Station 4 to keep the crowd on the move were futile. There were several hundred persons in the very center of the crowd who could not move in any direction because of the jam.

An open car well filled with people, women as well as men, turned down Tremont street and, with the motorman clanking the bell, rounded the corner into Eliot street. The car was bound for the Lenox street car barns. The motorman and the conductor were plainly frightened. The passengers, seeing the crowd, edged toward the easiest way off the car.

It didn't take the crowd long to know that there about the car were afraid, and a shout went up. The motorman switched the controller and the car was brought to a standstill.

Then things happened so thick and fast that no one person could take them all in with two eyes.

Conductor Draws Revolver
The passengers scrambled off the car, those nearest the left side crawling under the wooden rail. Then people in the street scrambled aboard.

Several men cut the bell ropes in various places. Somebody hoisted high on somebody's else's shoulders, cut the trolley rope near the wires.

Another man, whose purpose still remains his own secret, was seen bending near the forward trucks of the stalled car.

Meanwhile the motorman grabbed the iron switch stick, and jumping over the front seat of his car, was beating savagely about him with it. So far as learned he didn't hit anybody.

The conductor, beset by the mob, had drawn a loaded revolver, which, with a hand that trembled, he pointed toward the crowd about the car at the rear. Who seized the conductor first, whether a man of the mob or a man of the law, can't be stated. When he was arrested he had been hit apparently by a brick.

Station 4 rushed all available men to the scene as soon as word of the disorders reached Lanesburg street. The police reserves arrived with clubs drawn. Then the crowd sobered up and fell back a bit.

Motorman Escapes in Auto
The leaders tried to disappear in the crowd. Some succeeded. The officers hastened to collar those whom they could. This caused some of the more daring to turn their attention to the policemen, several of whom were injured.

During the struggle which followed between the police and the crowd, a number of missiles were rained down from buildings on both sides of the street. Almost every window held a crowd. The police were too busy in the street to investigate the brick throwing.

One of the officers of Station 4 arrested the conductor of the car early in the trouble, charging him with carrying a loaded revolver. At the station he gave his name as Oso E. Ridout, aged 23, of 17 St. James avenue. His injuries were taken care of at the Lanesburg street station.

About the time the police arrived the motorman jumped from the car and disappeared. It was afterward learned that he had been taken into an automobile belonging to the Boston Elevated railway and removed to one of that company's car barns. At the police station it was said that he was James O'Connor of 22 Dudley street, North Cambridge.

List of Those Arrested
William Mantas, aged 21, of 75 Beach street, was arrested, charged with assault and battery on Conductor Ridout. A charge of assault and battery was also made against Walter E. Davis, aged 35, of 22 Greenwich Park street, Edward J. Reed, aged 32, of 10 Doris street. The last named was accused of assault and battery on Patrolman Rafferty.

Charles H. Foster, aged 23, of 119 East on Park street, was held for obstructing the passage of a car. The following were locked up on a charge of disturbing the peace: Arthur Gordon, aged 24, of Rockland, Mass., Frank Smith, aged 45, of 24 East Canton street, Edward Boherty, aged 33, of 75 Longwood avenue, Henry Augustine, aged 42, of 10 Poole street, Medford, and Joseph Whitman, aged 25, of 97 Appleton street.

When the police had got the situation well in hand, a headquarters inspector in plain clothes climbed to the top of the disabled car, got hold of the trolley and the door. Another car had come along by this time, and this was coupled to the stalled car and pushed the latter into Park square, to the accompaniment of much cheering but without open outbreak.

Several open cars hauled and outward bound passed along Eliot street before the crowd had been dispersed by the police, but got by without being attacked.

Sgt. Fitzgerald took about a dozen men, and stretching these across Eliot street at Park square, drove the crowd out into Tremont street, whence it soon scattered.

FRANK M. DOWLING DIED THIS MORNING He Was Formerly Clerk of Committees

The many friends of Frank M. Dowling, former clerk of the common council and committees, will be pained to learn of his death which occurred early this morning at his home, 62 Congress street, after a lingering illness. Deceased was 35 years of age and is survived by a wife.

Mr. Dowling was born in Wakefield and came to this city when a boy. He entered the employ of the Lowell Daily Mail as reporter and later, when that paper ceased publication, he went to work for the Courier-Childen, remaining there until he was chosen clerk of committees at city hall, some ten years ago.

Deceased was of a jovial disposition and made friends easily. He was well versed in municipal affairs and soon he became one of the most valuable officials in the building. His work made him the right hand man of each member of the city government, whether it was for drawing up orders or ordinances or for giving information or advice as to methods of procedure on any measure.

The change of the form of government did away with the offices he held, and his health gave way a short time later. He had spent the past few months in an effort to recuperate but without avail and he passed away this morning at 10:30 o'clock. His demise will be keenly felt by all who knew him, especially the former members of the city government.

NURSE A SUICIDE HAD BEEN FORCED TO RESIGN FROM HOSPITAL

NEW YORK, June 17.—Miss Florence Weston, 18 years old, a student nurse at the Post Graduate hospital, was found dead in a room at the Hotel Astor last night. She had killed herself by drinking cyanide of potassium.

She left several letters, one of which was addressed to her mother, "Mrs. Florence Weston, Santa Barbara, Cal." and one to the "editor." In the letter she stated that she had been forced to resign from the Post Graduate hospital last Friday and that she felt "compelled" to kill herself.

A BIG WALL PAPER SYNDICATE
The United Wall Paper Stores of America have gained foothold in Lowell, having absorbed the Colonial Wall Paper Dept. at Nelson's Dept. store, and started in in earnest to distribute wall papers in big lots. Mr. Wilson, their local manager, says their allotment calls for five carloads of wall paper per year through headquarters, which means a lot of hustle and bustle, but judging from indications they will make things hum.

BIG CONFERENCE OF LIBRARIANS

To Open at Ottawa on June 26

OTTAWA, Ont., June 17.—The opportunity afforded by the public library as an open door for information and culture will be set forth prominently at the conference of librarians of the United States and Canada at Ottawa, Ont., June 26 to July 2.

The concern of the community in the awakening and development of taste in individuals will be the keynote of the program papers and addresses. This thought will be outlined in President Elmdorf's address and three of the general sessions will develop the theme more fully. Library publicity, book advertising, the breadth and limitations of library assistants and their relations to the public will be among the topics discussed. The program will partake of the international nature of the meeting, one session being wholly devoted to Canadian topics by Canadian speakers, among them will be George E. Foster, Canadian minister of trade and commerce; James W. Robertson, C. M. G., of the commission of conservation; Prof. Andrew Macphail, of McGill university, Montreal; and Geo. E. Locke, librarian of the Toronto public library.

Other speakers will be William H. Hatton, of New London, Wis., Carl B. Roden, of the Chicago public library; Walter L. Brown, librarian of Buffalo; Carl H. Milan, secretary of the Indiana library commission; Miss Teresa L. Koles, of New York; Miss Mary E. Hazdine, principal of the Wisconsin library school; Miss Edith Tobitt, librarian of Omaha; Adam Strohm, of the Detroit public library; and Chalmers Hadley, librarian of Denver.

Our evening will be devoted to an address by Dr. George E. Vincent, president of the University of Minnesota, and formerly dean of the University of Chicago. Several sections and affiliated organizations will hold meetings in Ottawa at the same time, among which are the state librarians, the League of Library commissions, and the Special Libraries association.

For the first time in its history the president of the American Library association is a woman. At the 1911 conference held at Pasadena, Cal., Mrs. M. L. Elmdorf, vice-librarian of the Buffalo public library, was unanimously elected president, the librarians following the example of the National Education association in choosing Mrs. Ella Plagg Young as its president, and the National Association of Charities and Correction in electing Miss Jane Addams as its head. Mrs. Elmdorf formerly was chief librarian of the Milwaukee public library and is one of the recognized authorities of the country in book selection. She was one of the editors of the "American Library Association Catalog of 3,000 volumes for a popular library," published in 1904, which has been the most valuable and widely used library aid ever compiled. The other officers are: First vice-president, Henry E. Bogler, librarian of the Chicago public library; second vice-president, Miss Mary W. Plummer, director of the New York public library school; secretary and executive officer, George R. Utley, of Chicago; and treasurer, Carl B. Roden, assistant librarian of the Chicago public library.

The American Library association was organized in 1876 and has held annual conferences every year since, except in 1878 and 1884. The headquarters offices are in the Chicago public library building. There are at present about 2,500 members.

BIG EXHIBIT

TO BE MADE BY U. S. BUREAU OF EDUCATION.

How to wash the air! why the color of the wall affects a child's vision; the "curve of learning"; and the operation of the aesthesiometer and ergograph are among the exhibits to be made by the United States bureau of education at the first exhibition ever given in America which deals with the general field of public health. The bureau's exhibit will show the hygiene of the school and the school child, as part of the exhibition to be held before the fifteenth international congress on hygiene and demography, meeting in Washington next September.

Among other advance information just given out, the education bureau specialists who have the school hygiene exhibit in charge, make the statement that one exhibit will show that stuttering is about three times as common among boys as among girls.

The bureau of education's exhibit is divided into sections. The first of these considers the hygiene of the school child, taking up such subjects as food, sleep and clothing. With the cooperation of school architects and makers of school furniture and school appliances from all over the country, the bureau is also preparing extensive exhibits on the hygiene of the school building and the hygiene of instruction. Other sections of the school hygiene exhibit will take up the hygiene of physical defects, the medical inspection of school children and open-air schools.

$150,000 DAMAGE CAUSED BY FIRE

Several Firemen Were Badly Injured

BUFFALO, N. Y., June 17.—One man was fatally injured, 15 firemen were overcome by smoke and property valued at $175,000 was destroyed in a fire that kept practically the entire fire-fighting force of the city busy for several hours early yesterday.

The loss in Taylor & Crate's lumber yard, where the fire began, was $100,000. The Empire Reef and Provision company's warehouse, four blocks away, was destroyed, with several small houses nearby, causing a loss there of $75,000.

Capt. J. J. Leary was caught under the walls of a small building. His back was broken and he probably will die.

Fifteen firemen working in a blind alley between lumber piles, were caught by a shift in the wind and all of them were overcome. Their predicament was not discovered for some time and several are in a serious condition.

Pannier is Latest Feature in Fashion World Today

In its development the pannier, one of the very latest features of fashion, is graceful and attractive, and many charming gowns are made in this style. It is especially well adapted to tulle, taffetas, and other soft silks, but it is being used for materials of many kinds. The gown illustrated combines one of the new flowered silks with plain taffeta, the trimming being of lace, the yoke of net and the full portions of the blouse of chiffon. The pannier can be made after the manner shown on the figure or with closed

Overblouses of taffeta worn with lingerie gowns are among the smartest of all things this season. All sorts of pretty colors are used for their making, and they are extremely attractive and very generally becoming. The one illustrated is perfectly simple, closing at the shoulder and underarm. It includes a peplum that can be adjusted at either the high or natural waist line. The guimpé beneath is a simple one with the kimono sleeves that are general favorites. The tunic, or upper

The beach girl will be a distinct feature of attractive femininity this summer. She has always been a factor to be reckoned with at the seashore, but there is every reason to believe that she is going to be more prominently in the picture next season than ever before in her smiling, lovely existence. To achieve the distinction of being a beach beauty requires considerable artistic ability of a sartorial and scenic sort. She must be able to arrange the stage setting in an effective fashion, always taking into account the personal equation.

The beach girl, for example, must be very careful in the selection of her beach umbrella. Its canvas colorings must harmonize and not clash with her costumes, for under the hospitable shade of this umbrella lady will hold her court on the sand. A lazy sand chair and perhaps a easy rug for chilly mornings are requisites of the beach outfit.

Several sets of chair cushions will be absolutely necessary. Neutral tints, as a rule are the safest to own, but the beach girl will never forget the effectiveness of bright red silk cushions when she gracefully reclines in her sand chair gowned in dainty white from the top of her pretty little head to the tip of her well booted foot. As this is to be another "white year," the red cushions are likely to play a large part in the beach picture.

And, in connection with white frocks, how do you like the white ratine gown among the illustrations? This little frock has the low armhole now fashionable for all outing costumes and the new sash, which has two short ends simply folded or lapped over the belt portion. White buckskin button boots make the frock very smart.

And in connection with footwear sensible models for country and seashore wear are abroad this summer. The pretty, high heeled pumps and buttoned boots which are so smart and trim with conventional laces, may be sacrificed on the beach for canvas or buckskin ties, lacing high over the instep and having stout soles and low broad heels. The white shoe is so cool and summery looking and is so easily kept spick and span that it is no trouble to wear it even if one has to be one's own maid.

Silk bathing suits will be in evidence this summer quite as much as they have been for the past few seasons. And a clever girl I know, one of the beach beauty cult, has made for herself a stunning bathing suit out of an old ball gown. Clever, wasn't she? The frock was of white messaline, and the skirt was one of the tight "bubble" affairs that never could be in the water in its sheath-like proportions, so

THE UP TO DATE GIRL WILL HAVE A JERSEY BATHING SUIT THIS SUMMER.

SOLID COMFORT ON THE BEACH.

Have a sturdy little knitted suit; no silk costume for her. Heavy breakers that pull to pieces a silk bathing suit in no time at all have no effect on one of these knitted costumes. You can see for yourself how natty such a bathing suit is by glancing at the model pictured. Jersey and trunks are of knitted worsted, and the short, plaited skirt of mohair is strengthened by its stitched braid trimming. The collar and tie match the skirt material.

SOME USEFUL RECIPES

Many Delicious Ways of Serving Chicken

Select a nice tender chicken, clean, singe and split down the back. Season well with salt and pepper, rubbing the seasoning well on the inside of the chicken. Lay in a saucepan, cover with boiling water and let simmer for an hour if the chicken is quite young. Add to it while cooking one tablespoonful of minced parsley, one tablespoonful of thyme, a minced bay leaf, a small onion chopped fine and salt and pepper to taste. When the chicken is done place on a heated dish, butter nicely and serve with sauce tartare.

Sauce Tartare
To a pint of mayonnaise sauce, made with tarragon vinegar and mustard, add a shallot chopped fine, one-fourth of a cup each of fine chopped capers, olives and cucumber pickles, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one-half teaspoonful of powdered tarragon. Half a teaspoonful of onion juice may take the place of the shallot.

Deviled Chicken
Boil a year old chicken according to the above directions. When done mince the meat fine and make a sauce as follows: Rub into a saucepan one tablespoonful of butter. As the butter melts add a tablespoonful of onion minced very fine, a sprig of parsley minced, a bay leaf minced and half a clove of garlic minced fine. Let the ingredients simmer gently without browning them. Add a tablespoonful of stiff flour. Mix thoroughly and add three tablespoonfuls of vinegar or a glass of white wine. Stir well and add a pint of water in which the chicken has been boiled. Season with salt and pepper to taste, add a dash of cayenne and a teaspoonful of prepared mustard. Simmer three minutes longer, and as it comes to a boil pour over the chicken and serve.

Chicken and Rice
Select a fine chicken, clean, cut and season well with salt and pepper, melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and add the chicken. Let it brown well, then add these vegetables: chopped time. Two small turnips, two carrots, two onions, a small piece of red pepper pod and three tomatoes, then add a clove of garlic, a bay leaf, a bit of lemon peel, a sprig of thyme and one of parsley, a little ham in half inch squares.

Let all simmer gently for ten minutes.

A WAY TO EARN MONEY
This is a "really truly" story of a woman who, having been left a hundred dollars, started a professional career with the legacy by purchasing a pneumatic cleaner.

Several weeks before the money was paid over to her a woman friend bewailed the fact that she could not afford to have her house cleaned by a professional cleaner of her own. "I would like to rent one by the day if I knew some one who would let me try it."

The hearer went at once on a tour of inspection of pneumatic cleaners. The advantages of various makes were carefully studied, and one was finally selected that came within the hundred dollar limit.

After purchasing the cleaner and mastering its intricacies the girl's first visit was to the friend who had given her the idea. "I have a pneumatic cleaner to rent. What do you want done and what would be a fair price to charge?" It was decided to rent the machine for 15 cents an hour if the owner did not direct its manipulations and 30 cents an hour if she did.

An engagement was made for three hours of work every week, the girl to take charge of the maid and see that house was thoroughly cleaned.

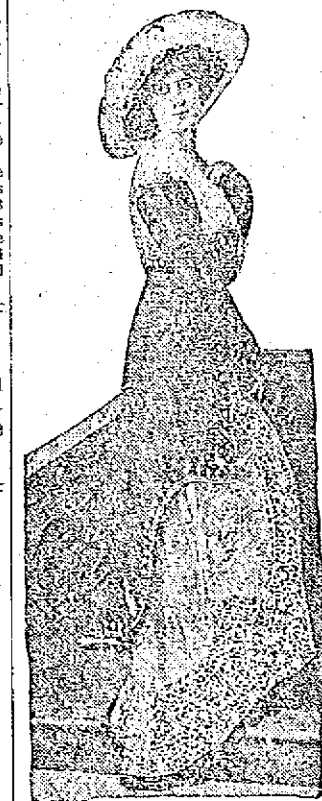

Later the owner of the cleaner sent out a circular to her friends giving prices for different uses for her machine. Soon she had more work than she could do, and her legacy paid a huge interest. If there was a hurry order more was charged. There was also an additional fee if she was expected to arrange rooms after cleaning.

Later on when the girl had gained experience in clothes cleaning was added to that of house cleaning.

This work is pleasant for a strong, healthy girl, the pay is good and a trade is built up without the worry of expenses.

THE DAINTY SILK COAT

Quaint and picturesque are the silk coats of the summer, which are worn not only when the air is chilly and one needs protection, but as a decorative addition to dainty frocks of net and lingerie.

EASILY MADE SAVORIES

Ramkings—To make ramkings grate half a pound of cheese and beat it in a mortar with half a pound of butter, the yolks of three eggs and the inside of a small French roll boiled in cream until it is soft. Add the well whipped whites of the eggs and pour the mixture into small and rather long shaped paper pans. Place them in the oven and bake a pale brown. Serve at once. This batter is very nice when poured over cauliflower, stewed broccoli or celery.

Roast Cheese—Grate three ounces of Cheshire cheese and mix it with the yolks of two eggs, four ounces of grated bread crumbs and three ounces of butter. Add a dessertspoonful of mustard and a little salt and pepper. Toast some small rounds of bread, lay the mixture upon them, put them into an oven to get hot all through and to allow the cheese to brown a little. Serve very hot.

Anchovy Toast—Bone and skin six or eight anchovies and pound them to a mass with an ounce of fine butter and spread it on toast.

Tomatoes and mushrooms with Olive Sandwiches—Take six skinned and cut tomatoes, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one of butter rubbed with one of cornstarch, a speck of cayenne and a pinch of salt. Simmer until thick, add a little minced onion and mushrooms. Cook twelve minutes and serve with brown bread sandwiches spread with butter and chopped olives.

Hot Ham Sandwich—Put some boiled cold ham through a meat chopper and mix with a very little butter into a paste. To a half cupful put a quarter of a teaspoonful of dry mustard. Spread this mixture on squares or rounds of bread and put the two together with a thin slice of good cheese. Saute in a hot chafin dish with a tablespoonful of butter until the latter begins to bubble. Have ready hot plates, and when the cheese has melted and the bread is browned slip one on each plate.

PORCH SCREENS

Have you seen the new screens? They are made of broad strips of lindenwood treated with weather proof colors and rigged with metal pulleys. They are finished in dark green and are most attractive and durable. There is another new screen of German manufacture made of strips of basswood, bound together with hundreds of threads. While expensive, these screens will last for years and are among the newest things of the sort.

So varied are the screen models this year that there are hanging screens by means of which another room may be added to your summer cottage. They invite privacy and give a charming subdued light to a porch fitted up as a living room either in bamboo or wicker furniture.

Porch screens also tend to make an ideal sleeping porch out of an upstairs porch, and this fall of sleeping out of doors is growing every year. Soon it won't be a fad at all.

SMART SUMMER JACKET

The summer girl will not be up to date this year unless she has in her possession a blazer jacket, either in magpie colorings or in some of the more conspicuous combinations of the season. A striped black and red

BLACK AND WHITE STRIPED BLAZER

Jacket is considered very good style. These blazer models are hip length affairs with cut away front and notched collar in magpie effect. They button with a single button at the bust line, and the sleeves are long and close fitting. The blazer illustrated is of black and white striped damask.

STANDARDS OF LIVING

The national conference of charities and corrections in session at Cleveland is preparing plans for submission to the two political parties, covering a variety of questions, bearing upon standards of wages, hours of labor, health, sanitation, and safety, housing and the term of a working life.

This body urges that the welfare of society and the prosperity of the state demand the maintenance of certain standards of living as necessary to secure mental, physical and moral health. In the first place a minimum wage is advocated as a protection against a state of existence to which no wage earner should be allowed to fall. For this purpose a commission is urged to arrange such wage standards as may be deemed fair in the various crafts.

The leaders in this movement contend that the community should protect itself against subnormal conditions, and that this can be done only by government control that will regulate those conditions and agencies that threaten the general welfare.

Thus minimum standards are recommended not only in regard to wages, hours, housing, safety and health but also in the term of the working life and in compensation for injuries in accident, such as is provided for in the workmen's compensation law.

These propositions are so varied and general that they seem to partake of all the paternalism of socialism. The practicability of many of the schemes set forth is open to grave question, but the discussion of such ideas can do no harm and may result in good. The term of a working life would set a minimum and maximum age outside of which it would be illegal to employ the individual. The age of sixteen is named as the minimum, but the society does not venture to say whether Dr. Osler's age limit of sixty would be the proper time for retirement.

It would be very nice, indeed, if every man who has been self-supporting from the age of sixteen up should be enabled to retire at the age of sixty; but it would require a government pension in most cases to offer any guarantee of such a source of happiness in declining years.

Such visions may perhaps be realized at some future time; but at present it is difficult to see how they could be guaranteed by a government with political conflict and devoted to the distribution of special privilege rather than protecting the lives, the happiness and prosperity of the people.

GOOD TIMES ASSURED

The Banker and Tradesman, which is considered a very reliable authority in business matters offers the following assurance of good business for the coming season:

"It is a time-honored superstition that presidential campaigns destroy business. The only real element of truth in it, however, is that the superstition itself makes a fine excuse for pulling a poor mouth in the office of the man who has called to collect a bill or solicit an order, while in the plant every wheel is whirling with the effort to keep up with orders. The present campaign is no exception. It surely is exciting enough. It certainly does produce some hesitancy and caution, but as to destroying business—it's all hogwash! What orders we don't get before election will not be 'destroyed.' We'll get 'em after election, and in the meantime there's enough current business to keep us all busy, so cheer up and pass it along."

THE CHICAGO CONFLICT

The situation seems to have undergone a change with the arrival of Roosevelt at Chicago. Teddy while crying fraud against honest men is probably practicing it or having it practiced for him by his friends. The reported defection in the Taft delegations is bad. Taft is not the man to stem any stampede of this kind. He has good fighters, however, and if they had a good leader there would be no question as to the victory.

The country has never had a convention fight like this, never a candidate fighting a first term opponent to get a third term for himself and fighting too as no one else has ever fought.

The nation stands aghast, and there is no telling what may happen. Taft has the delegates but under conditions such as will prevail in the convention, that will not ensure his nomination.

SCARCITY OF MILL HELP

It is not at all strange that there should be a scarcity of help in the local mills. We have had a general strike recently that drove many operatives out of town in order to earn enough to support themselves or dependents. Having secured good positions in other cities, they have decided to remain. At present the Lowell mills are adding to their help and find it difficult to get skilled operatives for all their machines. This is one of the damaging effects of a great mill strike. The strike was precipitated by outside agitators, and more than half the operatives did not want to quit work. The mills being crippled had to close. There is a scarcity of skilled help in other mill cities as well as in Lowell and one that will continue unless met by immigration.

POPULATION, NATIVE AND FOREIGN

Recent census returns show the percentage of foreign-born citizens in a number of cities, among which are the following:

Passaic, N. J., 52 per cent; Lawrence, Mass., 48.1; Perth Amboy, N. J., 44.5; New Bedford, Mass., 44.1; Woonsocket, R. I., 43.4; Fall River, Mass., 42.6; Chelsea, Mass., 42.4; Manchester, N. H., 42.4; New Britain, Conn., 41; Lowell, Mass., 40.9; Shenandoah, Pa., 40.6; New York, N. Y., 40.4; Holyoke, Mass., 40.2.

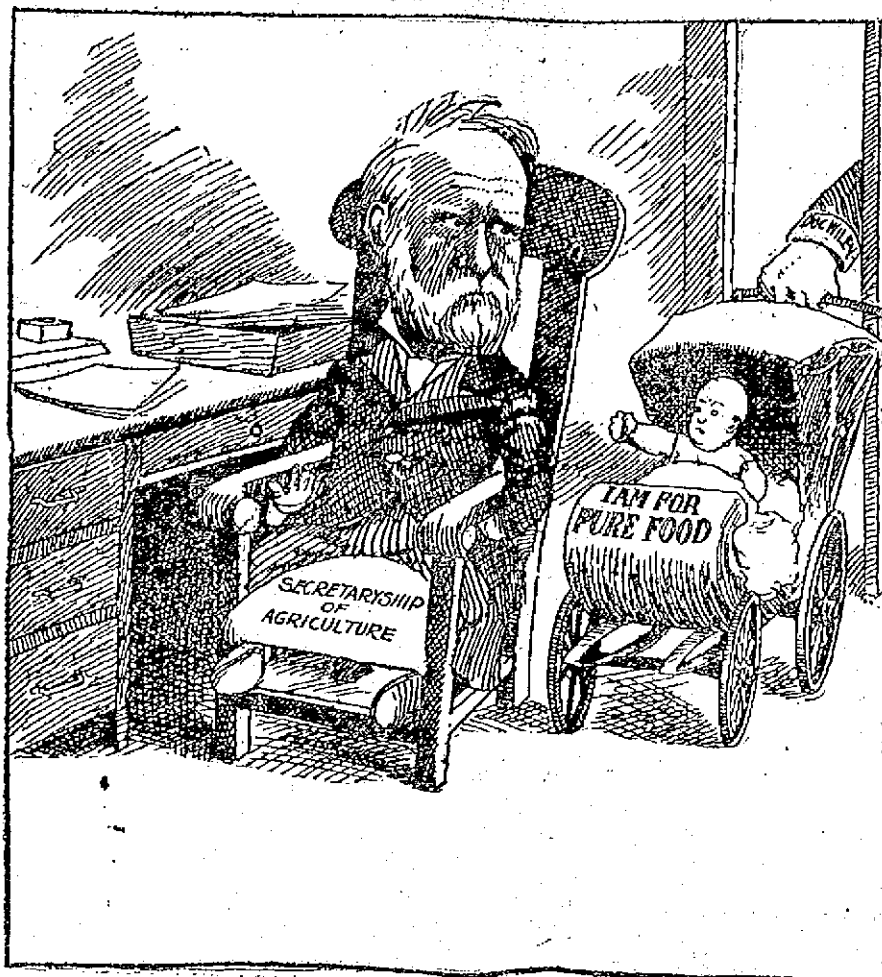

Thus it appears that Lowell has not as great a proportion of foreign-born citizens as several of the other mill cities of this state.

EXCESSIVE RATES OF INTEREST ON LOANS

Our temporary and other loans have been negotiated at rates of interest as high as might be asked from a borrower who is considered a bad risk. The city of Lowell should be able to borrow money at as low a rate of interest as any city in the state, but it pays, we understand, nearly twice as much as some of them. The rate of 4.62 and even 5 per cent, and upwards is altogether too high. Under ordinary conditions such a rate of interest might well be regarded as a deliberate swindle of the city.

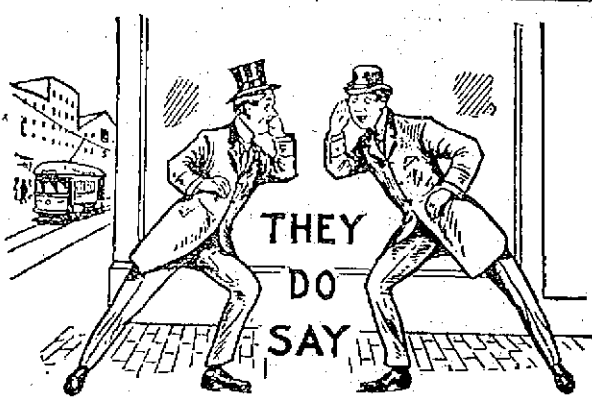

Boston takes special pride in celebrating Bunker Hill day. The observance this year will be marred by the car strike as the people do not care to take any chances of injury on the various lines. The inexperienced motorists and conductors are having many accidents and for this the company is responsible, so that General Baneroff after all will not be long getting rid of his million dollars.

Why cannot the dynamite planter of Lawrence step down and out quietly as he is not to give himself or the city any more unsavory notoriety? Will it help his case any if he is thrown out by indignant citizens?

"WHEN I GROW TO BE A MAN I'LL GET YOU OUT OF THAT CHAIR"

Wiley, Jr., to Secretary Wilson.

That Saturday was a busy day for Dave Petrie in Merrimack square, as many autos passed through the city.

That the local theatregoers regret the closing of Kelt's theatre.

That the Boston strikers, who were in Lowell last week realized a goodly sum.

That the "out club" has received two additional members.

That there is a very peculiar sign attached to a building near Davis square. It reads: "Large & McLean".

That during the winter months a great many changes have been made in the camps along the Concord river.

That there was some class to the opening of the Genoa club yesterday.

That a well known local soloist attracted a large audience the other evening, when he was displaying his ability to his lady friend.

That an agent for a Boston paper will not sell his "goods" to a local newsboy because he sold another paper.

That several students of the electrical department of the industrial school are doing considerable wiring about the city.

That the red twenty-five cent ball is proving very popular with the local amateur ball teams.

That the audiences at city hall are getting quite large these days.

That the proprietors of the summer dance halls are insisting that the so-called "grizzly bear" dance be eliminated. A good thing.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The Temple Players, whose success during their seven weeks' stay at the Merrimack Square Theatre have made them unusually popular with the hundreds of patrons of that playhouse, are to appear in one of New York's biggest successes during the present week's series. The piece is called "A Night at the Cabaret" and it's said to be filled with a choice assortment of everything that's clever in the musical comedy line. The piece will be elaborately staged, and the large cast engaged in its presentation will be seen at its best. Miss Grace Hawthorne, the clever leading soloist of the company, is scheduled to appear in a part that will present rare chance to display her charm and ability as an entertainer. The other members of the cast, including James Byrnes, Jr., Richard Stead, George Lewis, Miss Helen Nichols, and Frankie Wood, will also find ample opportunity to display their cleverness.

LeRoux, character change artist, has enjoyed successes in other cities and should please local patrons. Claudio Austin is a clever comedy juggler who introduces several new and novel stunts, and Miss Alice Bagley, the Lowell girl, will be heard in new illustrated songs.

The photo-plays for the first three days of the week will include some of the best produced. Among those to be shown here for the first time are "The Angel and the Stranded Troupe," a comedy offering by the Edison company; "Yellow Bird," a dramatic production by the Vitaphone company; "Messina as It is Today," an educational picture, and several others equally as good.

A pleasant feature in connection with the presentations at this theatre is the fact that a normal temperature is always maintained, making it cool and comfortable at all times. When it's warm and sultry outside it's enjoyable inside the theatre.

This week is the last week for the Temple Players.

THE KASINO

The people of Lowell are invited to band concerts afternoon and evening at the Kasino on Thordike street hill this week. The concerts will be given by the Kasino orchestra of 16 pieces, and will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, each lasting 30 minutes. There is absolutely no charge for the entertainment, and those who enjoy dancing may find ample opportunity following the concerts, with tickets five cents a couple.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Paid Tribute to Their Departed Brothers

Wamesit lodge, No. 25, and Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56, of the Knights of Pythias observed Memorial Sunday yesterday and paid tribute to their departed brothers. The services were very impressive and were largely attended.

Both lodges met in Castle hall in Merrimack street at 8:15 o'clock, where joint services were held. A title composed of P. C. E. E. Mansur, John Shaw and P. C. Robert J. Fullerton rendered some beautiful selections during the services. P. C. Robert Fullerton sang "The Vacant Chair" in memory of those who had departed during the past year. Miss Harriet E. Mansur presided at the piano in her most efficient manner, which was highly pleasing to all.

During the past year, four members have been called to the grand lodge above to mingle with those gone before.

Addison Dugdale died Sept. 28, 1911; James P. Dugdale died Nov. 13, 1911; members of Wamesit lodge, No. 25, Dr. Charles W. Taylor died Jan. 4, 1912; Samuel Omand died May 22, 1912; members of Samuel H. Hines lodge, 56.

At the conclusion of the morning services barges were taken to the various cemeteries where the graves of the deceased members were decorated.

The closing ceremony came in the afternoon at the Pythian lot in the Edison cemetery. The members of the lodges to the number of 80, gathered around the lot in the form of a hollow square, with members of the Pythian Sisters and friends of those who have departed, and listened with interest and bowed heads to the beautiful rendering of the Knights of Pythias' tribute to their dead, by Brother Warren H. Arnold of Wamesit lodge, No. 25, P. C. Walter H. Gilman of Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56, as prelate for the occasion, ably aided the office as of old. The words of both brothers called back to memory those who were with us last year, causing all who listened, to wonder who would be missing ere another year goes by.

The altars and vacant chairs at the morning service in the castle hall were beautifully draped in black, with white streamers and rosettes, with the cardinal red and the emblem of the true knight twined about them, the draping being done by Mrs. Robert J. Fullerton of Dorcas temple, 13, P. S.

The services were in charge of a joint committee from both lodges, P. C. Robert J. Fullerton, S. H. Hines lodge, chairman; P. C. Frank B. Wright, Wamesit lodge, secretary.

IN CARDINAL'S ESCORT

Humphrey O'Sullivan at N. Y. Reception

One of the most imposing gatherings of Catholic laymen of the United States that has been held in a long time took place yesterday at the Retreat house of the Laymen's league for retreats and social studies, at Mount Mansera, N. Y., when Cardinal's day was observed. While the Laymen's league is a diocesan organization it has members all over the country and this city was represented by Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan, who was one of a committee of 29 who acted as the cardinal's personal escort at the affair.

BADLY INJURED

WESTFORD MAN THROWN FROM HIS BICYCLE

Albert Woods of Westford was badly injured Saturday night as a result of being thrown from his bicycle. He was found in an unconscious condition and taken to a nearby house and Dr. Sherman of Grandville summoned. The accident happened on the steep part of the long hill in Westford and was caused by the bicycle striking a large stone in the road. Wood's face was badly lacerated and his neck badly injured but he is resting comfortably today.

BILLERICA

A musical extravaganza was given in the town hall by the pupils of Miss L. B. Ferrin, assisted by Miss Louise Talbot of Lowell, Saturday night. The entertainment was something similar to that which was presented at Hatt-12, a theatre in Lowell several weeks ago.

SENATOR DIXON'S CLAIMS

Senator Dixon, campaign manager for Roosevelt, emphatically declared that the temporary roll call of the convention at this hour showed that Roosevelt would be nominated by a majority of at least 42 and that Senator Borah would be chosen temporary chairman over Senator Root by a large majority.

"At two o'clock this morning," said Mr. Dixon, "when we checked up our list of delegates known to be for Roosevelt and those we are sure to have with us we found unquestionably that we would control the convention and name Mr. Roosevelt by a clean majority of 42 votes."

WHAT TAFT MEN SAY

Taft forces today characterized as "too puerile to talk about" the plan, which emanated from Col. Roosevelt's room last night of substituting a new temporary roll for that created by the national committee. "We are ready for that statement or any other chimerical proposal that comes from the same source," declared Senator Penrose, as he welcomed a number of other Taft leaders for an early conference to discuss ways and means.

"Not a lawyer in the convention would seriously entertain any proposition to set aside party traditions in disposing of contest cases," said Mr. Penrose.

INSURGENT LEADER HAS BEEN KILLED

General Lacoste, Rebel Officer, Has Been Captured by the Cuban Forces

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Rear Admiral Usher from Guantanamo today cabled the navy department a confirmation of the report that Gen. Estanex, the Cuban insurgent leader, had been killed and that General Lacoste, the paralytic rebel general, had been captured by the government forces. Officials here believe this blow practically will terminate the revolution.

ISSUES PROCLAMATION

SANTIAGO, Cuba, June 17.—The insurgent leader Julio Anjomarchi, who on Saturday ordered all the whites to leave the vicinity of El Cobre, issued a proclamation this morning stating that he will hang any person approaching him with a suggestion that he should surrender.

VERDICT OF $1000
FOR THE PLAINTIFF

In the Case of Ernest Perry vs. the Davis & Sargent Lumber Company

In the case of Ernest Perry of Woburn vs. The Davis & Sargent Lumber Co., which was on trial in superior court since last Thursday, the jury this afternoon reported a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the sum of $1000. In this case the plaintiff alleged that while in the employ of the lumber company he fell through an open space at their saw mill in Middlesex street, this city and fractured one of his feet. A. S. Howard and A. J. Blazen for the plaintiff and P. E. Dunbar and J. J. Rogers for the defendant company.

The next case to be called to trial is that of Vida S. Walker, administratrix for the estate of the late Benjamin Hirst vs. Martha Gage of the Daniel Gage Ice Co., an action of tort in the sum of $1000, one-third of which is for death and the other two-thirds for conscious suffering. The plaintiff alleges that the late Benjamin Hirst was run over by an ice wagon belonging to the defendant, about two years ago, in Perkins street and was so badly injured that he died a few months later. The jury was this morning empaneled and took a view of the premises where the alleged accident occurred.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

BY THE OLD COMPANY G ASSOCIATES

The members of Old Company G Associates, who held a meeting at the New American hotel this afternoon and of which a report appears in another column, re-elected the same board of officers for the ensuing year. The secretary and treasurer's reports were read and accepted, and letters of regret from the following members were read: Willis R. Atkins, Durand, Wis.; H. T. Barnard, Melrose, Vt.; George D. Coburn, Roxbury; William E. Hill, Newark, N. J.; Charles H. Parmenter, Oakland, Cal.; E. M. Spaulding, Los Angeles, Cal.; Charles Spencer, Newport News, Va.; John Swencer, Meriden, Conn.; and Col. Melvin Beal, Lawrence.

MUNICIPAL CONCERT

Meetings of the municipal council will be held tomorrow afternoon and evening and several hearings are scheduled. Most of the hearings will have to do with petitions of the Lowell Electric Light corporation and the N. E. T. & T. Co., for pole locations, wire attachments, etc. The Stiles hearing will be resumed Thursday morning at 10.30 o'clock and George M. Rex, the expert accountant, has been requested to be present.

ROOSEVELT PLAN RIDICULED BY THE TAFT SUPPORTERS --- SENATOR
DIXON CLAIMS VICTORY

WARREN G. HARDING

WHO WILL PRESENT NAME OF PRES. TAFT TO REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, June 17.—The visit of Chairman Roosevelt to the rooms of Col. Roosevelt at midnight was not known to Mr. Roosevelt's associates on the national committee until this morning. They scouted the idea that Mr. Roosevelt had sought to make peace with the Roosevelt men.

At the Taft conference Rep. Olmstead of Pennsylvania was an important factor. He announced that he would be at the right hand of Mr. Roosevelt from the moment the convention opens to keep him straight on parliamentary procedure and the Taft leaders said they would be as well fortified with Roosevelt in the chair as they would be with Senator Root, the Taft choice for the temporary chairmanship. It was said at the conference that the Taft men did not care how early the Roosevelt forces started the inevitable conflict.

"The temporary roll of delegates as arranged by the national committee will organize the convention," said Mr. McKinley. "I was told also that the Taft leaders also were prepared for any kind of a move, and that they were well acquainted with the various plans coming from the Roosevelt headquarters."

The source of their information was not explained.

The Taft leaders ridicule the plans announced by Roosevelt men to force roll calls in the convention and to prevent contesting Taft delegates who were elected by the national committee from voting.

Senator Dixon, the Roosevelt manager, stated today that Roosevelt will have a majority of 42 in the convention.

At the Roosevelt headquarters Col. Roosevelt this morning received the delegates from Illinois, New Jersey, Oklahoma and Massachusetts. The colonel shook hands and chatted with each delegate.

After the Massachusetts delegates had visited the colonel, Matthew Hale of Boston announced that the eight delegates at large from that state who had been renounced by Col. Roosevelt in favor of President Taft would vote for Roosevelt.

"In view of the tactics of the national committee in deciding the contests in other states," said Mr. Hale, "I believe the eight delegates at large from Massachusetts will vote for Col. Roosevelt."

Speaking for the Roosevelt forces today Guy Hader of Missouri, chosen for floor leader of the convention, declared that no contested delegate seated by act of the republican national committee should sit in the convention.

"How can you help it?" he was asked. "We are not unmasking our batteries today," he replied. "No delegate with such credentials shall have a vote in this convention if we can help it. By tomorrow we will have our plans completed."

"What shall you do?"

"Nothing that is not regular and American; nothing that will not be approved by the American people."

The Roosevelt leaders apparently were not disturbed by the announcement of the Taft adherents that they would successfully block the movement for the adoption of a substitute roll of delegates. They asserted with confidence that the convention would not be organized, "with fraudulent delegates in the places that should be occupied by those duly elected or chosen."

to Monahan, getting Weaver, and the ball was then sent to first for a double play. Yell closed the first half by going out, Miller to first.

In the latter half of the inning Loneragan sent the ball into the right garden for three bases. Monahan singled and was thrown out while trying to steal second. Maybom singled and Loneragan scored. Clemens singled to right field and stole second but he died there, for Miller hit to Demarre and was out at first and the ball was sent home in time to get Maybom, who tried to score on the putout.

Score: Lowell 4, Fall River 2.

Fifth Inning

Two goose eggs were registered in the fifth inning. Wheeler hit to Miller and died at first and Wilson hit to Boutles and was out at first. Walsh was the third man out on a grounder to McGinnell.

De Groff hit to Demarre and was out at first, but McGinnell drew a base on balls. Mages fled to Weaver and later McGinnell tried to steal and was caught in the act.

Score: Lowell 4, Fall River 2.

Sixth Inning

In the sixth inning Merrill walked to first after having four balls called on him. He went to second on Hickman's sacrifice. Rose fled to Mages and Weaver followed with a fly to De Groff.

In the latter half of the inning Boutles fled to Weaver. Loneragan hit to Demarre who fumbled and the runner was safe at first. Monahan hit to Demarre and was out at first. Maybom was third out, Hickman to first.

Score—Lowell 4, Fall River 2.

Seventh Inning

Demarre singled to left. Yell hit to Loneragan who threw Demarre out at second. Wheeler fled to Loneragan. Wilson fled to Mages who made a beautiful running catch.

FELL FROM PIAZZA GIRL BADLY INJURED

Gertrude B. Hill is in a Critical Condition

Gertrude B. Hill, aged four years, fell from a piazza at 67 Andover street shortly before 11 o'clock this morning and was seriously injured. The piazza is about 15 feet from the ground and when picked up it was found she was unconscious. The ambulance was summoned and she was taken to the Lowell hospital, where upon examination it was found that she was suffering from internal injuries and is in a critical condition.

HOUSE AND BARN

IN WESTFORD WERE DESTROYED
BY FIRE

The house and barn owned by William Pollock in Westford were destroyed by fire late Saturday night, and practically the contents and considerable livestock were lost. It is thought that the fire was of incendiary origin. The property was partly insured.

Mr. Pollock returned to his home from Lowell about 11 o'clock when he noticed a fire in the direction of his home. He ran as fast as possible to the house and found that both the house and barn were ablaze. He aroused the members of his family and took them to a place of safety.

Mr. Brooks of Grandville also noticed the blaze and notified John H. Kelly, captain of the fire department, who went to the scene at once, with what men he could gather and several extinguishers. Several calls were made by telephone, but being late at night it was hard to arouse the people.

DEATHS

PONDEAU—Marie Alma, infant daughter of Charles and Anna Pondeau, aged 1 year, 3 months and 6 days, died today at the home of her parents, 7 Montclair avenue.

QUIGLEY—Mrs. Josephine McCabe Quigley, wife of William H. Quigley, and one of the most esteemed residents of North Chelmsford, died this morning at St. Elizabeth's hospital, Boston. Her unexpected death will be a shock to a wide circle of friends and especially to the residents of North Chelmsford, among whom she has lived all her life. Deceased was a young woman of most estimable character. Deeply religious, much of her life was spent in furthering the interest of St. John's church, where for the past 15 years she had been the organist, and was prominently identified with the various societies connected with the church, being prefect of the Ladies' sodality for many years. Mrs. Quigley was also a member of the High School.

If you want help at home or in your business, try The Sun "Want" column.

Alumni of North Chelmsford. Besides her husband she leaves an infant daughter; her mother, Mrs. Margaret McCabe; four sisters, Mrs. Peter McEnaney, Mrs. John Garvey, Mrs. William J. Quigley and Miss Angela McCabe. The body was brought to this city and taken to her home on Princeton street by Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

POTTER—Stentley Allen Potter died yesterday at his home, 36 Albion street, aged 53 years. Besides his wife, Mary, he leaves one sister, a brother and his mother, all in Shamrock, R. I. He was a member of the I. O. O. F. in Millisboro, N. H.

SIMPSON—Mrs. Margaret Simpson died yesterday at her home, 52 Howard street, aged 48 years. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. James Seavey of this city and Mrs. Ross Tuttle of Oxford, Mass.; also four sons, Reuben of Buxford, Me., Herman of Vinet Haven, Me., Alfred of Cridhaven, Me., and Fred, also of Cridhaven.

THOMAS—The many friends of William Thomas will be grieved to learn of his death which occurred Saturday at his home, 7 Willie avenue, after a brief illness. Deceased was 46 years of age and a native of Lowell. He leaves two sisters, Mrs. Cornelius Shinkquin and Mrs. Jennie Demaris.

MARKEY—Patrick N. Markey, an old and esteemed member of St. Patrick's church and prominent resident of ward 2, died yesterday at his home, 33 Adams street. Deceased had been a resident of Lowell for the past 35 years and the greater part of that time a valued employee of the Lowell Machine shop. He leaves a wife and two sons, James and Bernard Markey.

PEARLSTEIN—Asaw Pearlstein died yesterday at the Tewksbury state hospital. Burial took place in the Hebrew cemetery in Pelham, N. H.

FUNERAL NOTICES

SIMPSON—The funeral of Mrs. Margaret Simpson will take place Tuesday afternoon. Services at the residence, 52 Howard street, at 2 o'clock. Burial in Buckenbury Me. C. H. Molloy & Sons in charge.

POTTER—Died in this city, June 16th, at his home 36 Albion st., Stentley Allen Potter aged 53 years. Prayers will be said at the residence Tuesday morning at 9:30 o'clock. Friends invited. Burial will take place at Shamrock R. I. Arrangements in charge of Undertaker George M. Eastman.

SMITH—Died June 17th, at North Chelmsford, Mrs. Carrie A. Smith, aged 37 years, 3 mos. and 3 days, at her home on Highland avenue. She is survived by her husband, C. Sherman Smith, her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Rowell of Brentwood, N. H.; two brothers, Sidney P. Rowell of Lowell and E. Howard Rowell of Bellingham, N. H.; and one sister, Mrs. Clinton D. Corliss of Northwood, N. H. As the cause of death was measles, there will be no funeral services here, but the funeral services and burial will be at Brentwood, N. H. # PARK DEPARTMENT MONEY FOR PARK SYSTEM ONLY

for Lucy Larcom Park,
Says City Solicitor

Sometime ago the superintendent of parks asked the city solicitor if any part of the money appropriated for park purposes could be used in caring for Lucy Larcom park. This park is not part of the park system and the only thing done on that park this spring was done by the mayor. He had the park cleaned by men from the Chelsea street hospital and the expense of the work will be charged to some one of the mayor's appropriations. The city solicitor says that the money appropriated for park purposes cannot be used in connection with Lucy Larcom park. The solicitor submitted his opinion in the matter today and it reads as follows:

"Dear Sir: In reply to your request for an opinion from the city solicitor upon the following question: 'Can the park commission apply any portion of money appropriated for park purposes to the care of Lucy Larcom park?' The city solicitor is of the opinion that no money appropriated for park purposes can be used for Lucy Larcom park. Lucy Larcom park is not within the control of the park commission; it is no part of the park system of the city of Lowell; it is separate and distinct, being held under trusteeship by deed of trust, the trustees being the mayors of the city of Lowell in succession and the chairman of the park commission in succession.

Pursuant to Section 8, Chapter 415, Acts of 1886, 'No sum appropriated for specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose' is conclusive on the point mentioned in your question. The money appropriated for park purposes can be used only for such purposes under the direction of the park commission. Since, therefore, Lucy Larcom park is not under the control of the park commission and not a part of the park system, the money appropriated for park purposes can not be applied to any other purpose.

The city is empowered and authorized to appropriate money to be used by the trustees aforementioned, for the purpose of beautifying said park, or otherwise carrying out the provisions of the trust.

Respectfully submitted,
J. Joseph Hennessy,
City Solicitor.

K. OF C. OPENED SUMMER CAMP

About 250 Enjoyed the Outing at Camp
Genoa

Yesterday the Knights of Columbus opened Camp Genoa on the Nashua road about eight minutes ride beyond Lakeview. Special cars went out between 11 and 12 o'clock, carrying a party of about 150. Later in the day the attendance numbered 250 and would have been much larger but for the rain. Dinner was served by the Page company at the pavilion, a very large corps of waiters under the direction of Mr. Albert O'Hair working assiduously until all were served. But for the unfavorable weather the dinner would have been served upon the tennis court. The menu was quite elaborate, including as it did steamed clams and salads of various kinds.

At the conclusion of the dinner, Grand Knight Henry Heaps called to order and addressed the assembly, setting forth the advantages of a summer camp away from the din and noise of the busy city. He spoke as follows:

Brother Knights: It gives me great pleasure to welcome you all to the opening of our beautiful country seat for the summer of 1912. I regret that the day is unfavorable for the full enjoyment of such an outing; but although—

"The mist is o'er the blooming bowers Like sorrow's veil on beauty's brow" yet you can realize the grandeur of the scenery that surrounds this camp and extends on all sides as far as the eye can reach, abounding as it does in sylvan splendors and the alternating beauties of hill and dale descending to the flowery meads where the majestic Merrimack rolls onward to the sea.

"For the benefit of the brother knights who are here for the first time I may mention a few facts of interest in connection with this retreat. It is, as you know, named after the birth place of Columbus, while yonder camp named for Queen Isabella, has been visited by many of our members without any of the disappointment which Columbus felt on first visiting the Spanish queen.

"Here," said Mr. Heaps, "we have about 25 acres of richly wooded land, part of which was under cultivation some hundred and fifty years ago by the Fletcher family, while perhaps the greater portion of it is clothed with primeval woods through which the Indians hunted ere the white man claimed this region as his own. The road which marks the entrance was once the pathway to a ferry across the Merrimack at a point where our boat-house now stands, and on yonder heights was a blockhouse from which the early settlers defended their possessions against the incursion of Wampanoag and his Indian hordes. The farm house, which is now our kitchen, was built and occupied by three men who fought in the Revolution, having answered the call of the minutemen at the battle of Concord and Lexington.

To prove still further the historic interest of these grounds, I point to the grove directly opposite this clubhouse, in which is the Fletcher cemetery, now almost hidden by trees and brush; but the state tombstones there still tell their story, recording the life and death of Captain Robert Fletcher, who died in 1773. Ezekiel Fletcher, who died in 1742, and many others, presumably descendants of the original Fletcher family that located in that vicinity, branching out from Concord, Mass.

These are but a few of the interesting facts in the history of this camp, but the beauties of Nature remain in-

HENRY J. HEAPS,
Grand Knight, K. of C.

all their pristine grandeur and when the brothers assemble here to witness the dawn of day on a bright summer morning when the rosy beams of the sun spread their glory in the east, when the birds make the woods resound with their chorus of melody; when the dew is yet upon the grass; when under the ruddy glow the crystal drops are changed to rubies as they hang upon the opening flowers, now waked by morning bees, or come here to witness a golden sunset as the beams fall across the valley above your head and shimmer in the trees, while the banking clouds in their iridescent hues change from crimson and gold to olive and blue, that finally blend in the shades of night, only soon to be brightened by the evening star and the big full moon whose silvery sheen is reflected in the placid waters of the Merrimack.

I hope you will come here during the summer, bring your families to enjoy the camp, the dance hall, the groves, the valley and the grounds in every part. I thank you for your attendance.

I hope we shall meet here again and often during the summer and that you will enjoy this opening day to the utmost.

Secretary Philip Green did everything possible to entertain the members and to make the occasion enjoyable, as did the following committee of arrangements: Henry Meaus, Albert O'Hair, John Welch, John H. Murphy and Joseph Bourke.

A delegation from Passaconaway tribe of Haverhill, were present to extend an invitation to this tribe to attend their outing Sunday, June 23d, at Gardella's camp, Bradley's brook, near Haverhill. The invitation was accepted and a committee consisting of Daniel Starkey, George O. Spaulding and Edmond Crompton was appointed to select a tug of war team to compete with the Lawrence team for a suitable prize. J. H. Hickey reported that the deputies of this reservation met at the great council office in Boston last Wednesday, and the great sachem, Theodore R. Emmond of Halloway outlined their duties for the present term. Some of the deputies offered suggestions on degree work and the modifying of the laws to benefit the tribes; they were accepted, and the deputies instructed to use their best efforts to promote the interest of the order. Remarks were made on the welfare of the order by the Haverhill brothers, on tribal affairs by Brothers Edmond Crompton, George Ryan, L. F. Steele and George A. Frost.

A STUBBORN BLAZE IN PRODUCE STORE

Probably Caused by Rats
and Matches

A stubborn blaze broke out in the building at 231 Market street occupied by John Vabos, wholesale produce and fruit dealer, yesterday afternoon about 2:45 o'clock and before the firemen succeeded in getting the fire under control considerable damage was done.

The fire started in a pile of boxes and near the banana room on the second floor. Agent Richardson, of the Lowell Humane society was passing at the time and seeing smoke issuing through the windows pulled in an alarm from box 7. When the firemen arrived they found a lively blaze in progress and the smoke was very thick.

Several lines of hose were laid and four streams of water were playing on the building from both the rear and front, and it was not long before the flames were quenched. The loss was confined entirely to the building where it started. Considerable fruit was destroyed and the damage to the rear of the building was severe, amounting in all to several hundred dollars.

Fortunately one of the employees happened to be on hand soon after the alarm was rung in, and he succeeded in securing the books and papers in the office, which was directly beneath where the fire started.

It is thought that the fire was caused by rats and matches.

BITTEN BY RATS

CHILD HAD TO BE TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

PHILADELPHIA, June 17.—Frederick Bragden, 8 years old, was left alone in his home at 229 South Warrack street, while his mother called on her sister, who was ill.

Mrs. Bragden was away only a few minutes, but when she returned she found the lad screaming and covered with blood from many wounds on his hands and body. He had been attacked by several rats, and it is believed he would have been seriously hurt if his mother's return had not scared away the rats.

As it was, he was so badly injured he had to be taken to a hospital to have his wounds dressed.

BUNKER HILL DAY OBSERVED IN BOSTON

Outdoor Sports and Two Parades Enjoyed

BOSTON, June 17.—The unsuccessful defense of Bunker Hill by the colonists 137 years ago, popularly known as the battle of Bunker Hill, was celebrated in Greater Boston today along traditional American lines. The center of activity was naturally in Charlestown with two parades circling the tall granite shaft on Bunker Hill, "open house" by numerous clubs, some speechmaking, fireworks in the evening and small boy enthusiasm all day.

The day proved favorable for outdoor amusements and in other sections of Greater Boston there were numerous holiday sports.

REV. FR. BESSETTE

CELEBRATED HIS FIRST MASS AT TEWKSBURY NOVIATE

A very pretty ceremony took place at the novitiate of the Oblate Fathers in Tewksbury yesterday, when Rev. Herbert Bessette, O. M. I., who was ordained last Saturday by Cardinal O'Connell at the Boston cathedral, celebrated his first mass.

The little chapel at the novitiate was crowded to the doors with friends and relatives of the young priest including some from Vancouver, Boston and Lowell. Rev. Fr. Bessette was assisted by Bro. McCarlin as deacon and Bro. Jolbert as sub deacon, and Rev. Fr. McKenna, O. M. I., superior of the novitiate as assistant priest.

The singing for the occasion was by the novitiate choir which rendered beautiful music. At the close of the mass a short reception was held by Fr. Bessette during which time he was showered with congratulations and best wishes from his many relatives and friends. This morning the new priest celebrated mass at St. John's hospital.

JIMMY GARDNER HAS DIPHTHERIA

Clever Pugilist is Con- fined to His Home

Jimmy Gardner, the well known boxer, is confined to his home with diphtheria. It was at first thought that he was suffering from tonsillitis and his case had been diagnosed as such, but on Saturday Dr. A. E. A. McCann pronounced it diphtheria. Dr. McCann took a culture, sent it to the board of health and the culture proved positive, so that the doctor's diagnosis was substantiated by the board of health. Jimmy Gardner was to have fought Eddie McGourty of Oshkosh, Wis., last Wednesday night at the Pilgrim A. C., Boston, but his throat was very bad at that time and he did not go on. Jimmy showed up all right but the doctors would not let him fight. It was not known, however, that the very clever pugilist was suffering from diphtheria rather than tonsillitis and had the true character of the disease been known at that time the chances are Jimmy would not have been obliged to weigh in and make his appearance to save his forfeit money. Asked this afternoon how Jimmy was getting along, Dr. McCann said: "Jimmy is a very sick man. He has exposed himself considerably and it was unfortunate that he didn't know in the beginning that he had diphtheria rather than tonsillitis. Had he known in the beginning what the trouble was it would have made it much easier for him."

TODAY'S STOCK MARKET

STOCK MARKET

WAS FIRM AT THE CLOSE THIS AFTERNOON

Prices Hardened to Best of the Day in the Final Hour—There Was Especial Strength in Reading—Other Features of the Trading

NEW YORK, June 17.—A one point decline in Canadian Pacific was almost the only feature of interest in the early dealings on the stock exchange today. Dealings were light and the tone irregular.

Trading languished in the first hour and the market was absolutely featureless aside from a five point gain in Colorado Fuel and Iron on announcement of the resumption of dividends.

Today's early stock market gave a forecast of what may be expected until pending political complications come near the point of adjustment. Business in the first two hours was too perfunctory for any real meaning.

Leading stocks moved with the narrow range and as if by common impulse traders refrained from taking on new commitments.

Over a score of fairly prominent issues remained unquoted at noon.

Apart from some heaviness in the tobacco shares, the market remained as apathetic and featureless as in the early session although the undertone tended toward increasing firmness.

Scarcely any of the well known stocks fluctuated more than an eighth of a point during the middle of the afternoon and there were long periods in which the ticker was silent.

The market closed firm. On a slight increase of activity prices hardened to the best of the day in the final hour with especial strength in Reading and Can.

BLACKMAIL CHARGED TWO UNDER ARREST

Man and Wife Taken on Indictment Warrant

BOSTON, June 17.—John K. Costopolis, a fruit dealer, living at 41 Bowdoin street, West End, and his wife, Esther, were arrested by Inspectors Patterson and Sayward of police headquarters yesterday noon charged with blackmail. The arrests were made under indictment warrants, the couple having been indicted at a recent session of the grand jury.

The complainant in the case is John F. Curley of 460 Columbia road, Dorchester. It is alleged that the defendants wrote a letter to Curley on May 28 of last year which demanded $1000 from him, and declaring that if it was not paid Curley would be charged with a crime.

At the time the letter was written Costopolis had a fruit stand on Bowdoin street, Dorchester, not far from where Curley lived. It is said that he sometimes patronized the fruit store.

The two defendants were not then married. The woman, whose name was Esther Backstrom, was employed by Costopolis in his fruit store and he later married her.

The police decline to go into the details of the case until after the facts are presented to the court. The two prisoners were sent to the Charles street jail after being booked at police headquarters.

No information could be had from John F. Curley. A visit to his home at 460 Columbia road, Dorchester, brought forth the fact that he was away on a vacation and would not be back for two weeks.

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT SOUGHT BY THAW

Hearing Before Justice Keogh Today

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., June 17.—Harry K. Thaw's fight to obtain his liberty from Matteawan asylum on a writ of habeas corpus came up for hearing today before Supreme Court Justice Keogh. It will be a jury's duty to determine whether or not the slayer of Stanford White, is sane. If he can establish his sanity Thaw is entitled to freedom.

Thaw is represented by Clarence Shearn, Charles Morschauser and Henry R. Barrett. William Travers Jerome is appearing for the state, opposing the prisoner's release.

HAS VETOED THE ARMY APPROPRIATION BILL

WASHINGTON, June 17.—The president today vetoed the army appropriation bill. He returned the bill to congress with a message indicating his disapproval with the legislative provision which would cut Major General Wood of the office of chief of staff on March 4 next.

JAMES KENEALY DEAD

CLEVELAND, June 17.—James Kenealy, 37 years with the United States bureau and local politician here since 1893, died here last night. He was born in Stamford, Conn.

The dramatic public schools will close Friday for the summer vacation and will reopen again on Sept. 3. Closing exercises will be held in connection with the presentation of diplomas. The programs will be interesting and as the public is invited a good attendance should be on hand at each of the school buildings where the exercises are to be held.

The pastor knew something about the great American game. He named several of the teams in the big leagues and mentioned the name of Wolfgangs.

"There are two great reasons why I am against pools," he said. "They hurt the great American game of baseball, of which I am an ardent fan, and they play it, and although I don't get to games very often nowadays, I still hold my love for the game. It is a very clean sport. It gives many thousands of business and professional men opportunities to go into the fresh air and enjoy clean recreation. It acts as a safety valve for those who work very hard at confining labors. Horse racing used to be a general sport, but it was killed by the persistence of gamblers in doing business where it was held. And so will pool selling destroy baseball, unless a halt is called. It will bring this game into bad repute, a game which is healthful, clean, and which deserves something far better. Managers declare, and I can believe them, that pool selling hurts the game, and that they will do all in their power to stop it."

St. Paul's M. E. Church

At St. Paul's M. E. church Sunday night the pastor, Rev. M. B. Lytle, declared that the baseball pools would ruin the great American game of baseball. He said that he has been in Lowell but a short time and he knows all about the baseball pools. He says everybody in town knows about them. He compared the ball pools to the Louisiana lottery, and before he finished, the congregation realized that sands of men are making the fight successfully. He develops the highest manhood and keeps down the lusts of the flesh. With him life may be a song of triumph and of conquest over all evil. This is the gospel of good cheer.

INCREASE OF $5000 IS SHOWN

sign that the commissioner is onto his job.

Mr. Donnelly was heard from today when he passed out a very creditable statement to the press. It is a comparative statement having to do with tax collections made during the months of January, February, March, April and May, 1911 as compared with the corresponding months in 1912, and the figures show that the collections this year exceed the collections of last year by nearly $5000 or enough to pay Mr. Donnelly's salary and another of the commissioner's salaries for the year.

The total collections in 1911 for the months herein named were $243,502.39 as against $248,522.39 in 1912. The total amount collected represents taxes and the interest thereon from 1911 to 1912 inclusive.

The total amount of taxes collected during the months in question and for the years from 1901 to 1912 inclusive, was, by months, as follows: January, $20,926.01; February, $40,040.70; March, $39,221.51; April, $59,535.42; May, $45,835.65. The interest collected was 25 cents as follows: January, $1690.24; February, $1141.29; March, $2320.26; April, $3595.67; May, $3220.11.

Commissioner of Finance James E. Donnelly doesn't say much but just keeps on sawing wood and every little while there hobs into view some sure vision heard while the seniors of the Sheffield Scientific school held their class day exercises.

In the afternoon came the class day exercises of the graduating class of the college, followed by the planting of the class ivy; the anniversary exercises of the law school with the address to the graduating class by Judge W. B. Hornblower of New York. In the late afternoon Prof. Henry Donnelly of the Western Institute of anatomy and biology, Philadelphia, will deliver the address at the anniversary exercises at the medical school.

SMALL VOTE IN MAINE EXPECTED BY LEADERS

Primaries to Name U. S. Senator Held Today

PORTLAND, Me., June 17.—Maine voters were given an opportunity today for the first time to express their preference for United States senator. Politicians who are in touch with the situation looked for an exceedingly small vote, due largely to the fact that many farmers cannot spare the time to journey to the polls. The ballots also afford an opportunity for the nomination of the party candidates for governor and state and county officers. "The state is trying the joint primary system for the first time."

The democrats have no contest for the nomination for governor or for United States senator, but the republicans have sharp contests for both. There are three candidates for each office. For governor, Frederick E. Boody of Portland, William T. Haines of Waterville and Albert H. Shaw of Bath are seeking the nomination. The choice of the party for senator will fall upon one of the three candidates: Edwin C. Burleigh and Herbert M. Heath of Augusta, and Frederick A. Powers of Houlton.

The democrats will renominate Gov. Frederick W. Plaisted for governor and will favor Obadiah Gardner for another term in the upper branch of congress.

The possibility of a confusion in the voting of the party ballots, through the possible writing of the names of republicans on democratic ballots and vice versa has caused the party leaders some trepidation and efforts were being made today before the polls opened to thoroughly acquaint voters with their rights so that the invalidation of ballots would be reduced to a minimum.

HENRY MERRITT

HAD AN EXCITING EXPERIENCE WHILE FISHING

Henry Merritt, employed by Boutwell Bros., had an experience Saturday afternoon that he will not soon forget. Henry with his friend, Mose Hillsgrove, enjoyed a boat ride on the Concord river and when they struck good fishing grounds they cast their lines. They made a great catch and just before they decided to return home, Henry reached for something he thought was a fish, toppled out of the boat and went to the bottom. Henry in relating his experience said that the first thing he thought of when he went under water was the Titanic disaster. Mose rescued Henry and both returned home with their big catch of fish.

FRANK CAMPBELL

CONFINED TO HOSPITAL AS RE- SULT OF ACCIDENT

Frank Campbell, 17 years of age, son of Mrs. Mary Campbell, 42 Marion street, is in the Lowell hospital as the result of an accident that occurred a week ago Sunday while he was in company with other boys out in Chelmsford. One of the boys named James Pool had a revolver in his hand and while loading, it was accidentally discharged and the bullet entered young Campbell's wrist. Campbell was taken to the Middlesex Traumat school where the wound was temporarily dressed and later he went to the Lowell hospital where an X-ray examination was made. It was found that the bullet was so lodged in the wrist that it was dangerous to probe for it on account of it being so close to the arteries of the wrist. Campbell is still under medical attendance and everything will be done to save his arm. Young Campbell was employed in the Field, Lumber Shoe Co., West Adams street.

Hard in First Game—Blum
Looks Good

The double header between Lowell and New Bedford at the latter city on Saturday afternoon resulted in the Whalers taking the first game by the score of 8 to 7, and the second going 10 innings with no choice, each team scoring three runs.

In the first game Lowell used three pitchers, but the Whalers did great stick work. Lowell presented a new twirler in the person of Blum, who formerly pitched for Fall River. Maybom started the game for Lowell and pitched great ball up to the seventh inning, when he weakened. He was yanked and Zeiser sent in. The latter was off and gave a base on balls and then allowed a hit, which tied the score. In the eighth inning, after Zeiser had filled up the sacks, he was sent to the bench and Blum took up the task. He pitched fine ball, but the damage was done. The score:

SECOND GAME
Blum was sent in to work for Lowell in the second game and he did fine work. Errors gave New Bedford two runs in the second, but Lowell came to the front in their half of the third, when De Groff planted the ball over the fence with two men on. New Bedford then got one more on an error by the Lowell captain, tying the score. The game was scheduled to go seven innings by agreement, but as neither team could get another run it went 10 innings and was called off on account of darkness. Though both teams had several good opportunities to score there was nothing doing. The game was a corker and showed one good thing, and that is that this boy Blum is some twirler. The score:

MAN AND WOMAN ACCUSED
OF ASSAULTING POLICEMANSerious Charge May be Made
Against Patrick Roarke—
Other Cases Heard

There was a variety of cases brought to the attention of Judge Pickman in police court this morning, but several of them were postponed until a future date.

Assaulted Two Officers
Michael and Annie Polanski were charged with drunkenness and assault and battery on a police officer, but to look at Mike would cause one to think that he was the party assaulted. His head was swathed in a large bandage while the front of his shirt indicated that he must have lost a large amount of blood.

There was a mixup in Davidson street last night and when Mike and Annie were being placed under arrest they objected and started to put up a battle, but the fight proved to be a short one and the pair were soon subdued and enjoying a ride in the police patrol.

At the request of counsel the cases were continued until Wednesday morning.

Serious Case Probably
Patrick Roarke pleaded guilty to being drunk and also with having threatened Delia Clark last Friday. The prosecuting officer, however, asked that the cases be continued for a week, alleging that the man had pushed the Clark woman down a flight of stairs and that at the present time she is confined to a hospital. The continuance was granted.

Larceny from Poor Man's Friend
Thomas Brown, according to his own admission on the stand in court this morning, stole $5 from John McManus, the poor man's friend and "orphans' protector, and just for that "Mac" had the man arrested. It would appear from the testimony that Brown went to McManus' office and said he was in need of $5. John wanted some security whereupon Brown said that he had pay coming to him in one of the local mills. The necessary papers were made out and John passed over the $5.

When the constable tried to secure the pay he learned that Brown had no pay coming to him. Inasmuch as the man has a wife and two children dependent upon him Mr. McManus was inclined to be lenient and it was agreed to have the man given a suspended sentence of two months in jail and placed on probation for one month. In the meantime it is expected that Brown will make restitution.

Neglected His Wife
John E. Fay pleaded guilty to drunkenness and neglecting to provide proper support of his wife, Rose. The wife testified that when her husband was not drinking he was a good man and gave her every cent of his pay. Fay promised to do better in the future and the court placed him on probation for three months.

Drunken Offenders
Mary Dean, an aged woman, was sentenced to the state farm and Margaret McLoughlin was given a similar sentence.
William Joyal, Thomas J. Donnelly, Thomas F. Barry and Bernard McFarlane were each ordered to pay a fine of $5.
John P. Foye, Henry E. Griswold and Joseph B. Flynn, Sunday drunks, were fined $5 each.
James Roarke was sentenced to four months in jail.
There were three first offenders who were fined $2 each and 14 simple drunks were released.

LOWELL HIGH TEAM WON GAME

From Haverhill High by
Score of 8 to 7 in
Fine Game

The game between Lowell and Haverhill High school teams at Washington park Saturday afternoon was one of the most exciting ever seen at the park. The visitors had the game well in hand, but a grand rally by the home team in the sixth inning, when 4 runs were scored, turned apparent defeat into a grand victory. The final score was: Lowell 9, Haverhill 7.

Haverhill got one run in the second inning, but the Lowell boys took the lead in their half of the fourth. In the sixth, the visitors got three runs which gave them a four to two lead. Lowell came back in their half getting three, which gave them a lead of one run. Again the visitors banged the pill in good style in the seventh and accumulated three more, putting them to the front. The great rally by Lowell in the eighth, in which the quartet of runs were made gave Lowell the game. Each team had a half a dozen errors, but the game was very interesting and when the Lowell boys jumped into the lead in the eighth they were given a great hand and there was enthusiasm galore. Capt. Cawley of the locals played a great game at third and was also there with the stick, getting two fine bingles. Sturtevant and Desmond were the other shining lights on the Lowell team. Newbegin was the star batter for the visitors, doing the best hitting of the game. He got three very timely swats at the pill. Fishburn and Sanborn also did fine work for Haverhill. The score:

AMATEUR BASEBALL
The Groves defeated the Hustlers of North Billerica Saturday afternoon. The Groves lineup was Taylor, C. Sullivan, P. Donohoe, 1b, Miller 2b, Donahoe 3b, Willett 3b, O'Hare 1b, Collins cf, Sharkey rf. The Groves will play the Buffaloes the rubber game next Saturday on the Fair grounds.

The newly organized Manhattan baseball team, with one of the strongest lineups that ever represented an amateur team played the Y. M. C. A. first team on Lincoln park Saturday afternoon and won by the score of 9 to 4. The game was one of the best of the season, and many spectacular plays were pulled by members of both teams. Pete Condon was on the slab for the Manhattan and pitched a fine game. Paul Clark, captain of the team, did the receiving and his work was one of the features of the game. The batting of White, Farrell and Buckley was heavy, and these men were responsible for many of the runs scored by the team. The other players all worked hard and the victory was well earned. Manager Gumb of the Y. M. C. A. had a college boy in the box and he twirled a good game, but his teammates could do little with Condon's shots. The Manhattan are under the management of "Clem" O'Brien, and Capt. Paul Clark and are ready to play any team in the city.

The South Ends and the Y. M. C. A. second team played on the South common Saturday afternoon and the former team won by the score of 23 to 6. Eddie Brennan, formerly of the Brooklites played a fine game for the winners.

The Lincolnns went to Everett Saturday and were defeated by the score of 15 to 13.

The T. R. and T. baseball team of Billerica went to Concord Saturday.

CUBAN REBEL LEADERS TO ATTACK FOREIGNERS

500 Guerillas and Soldiers Have Been Placed in the Danger Zone

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Although the time limit allowed by the Cuban rebel leader, Julio Antomarchi, for all foreigners to abandon their homes in the neighborhood of El Cobre expired last night, the state department early today had no report of any attacks. American Consul Holway has reported that most of the territory in question has been depopulated as a result of the proclamation, and there is little opportunity for the rebel leader to execute his threat. The date set for the attack upon foreigners coincides with other movements of the kind which have come to the knowledge of the government here.

However, the Cuban general in command in Oriente has distributed about 500 guerillas and soldiers in the danger zone, while nearly two hundred American marines are entrenched at El Cobre and vicinity. It is believed that the danger has been greatly reduced. It is possible, of course, that a great deal of damage might be inflicted upon foreign properties, but today no report of destruction of such property has been received here and officials were inclined to believe the proclamation was bombast.

While navy department officials today disclaimed that any order had been given to the battleships New Jersey and Nebraska at Key West to join the other American warships in Cuban waters, it was said that both ships were making some steaming trials and that it was not improbable that these trials might take them to Guantanamo.

It is evident that everything is being kept in state of preparedness for the movement of the expeditionary force of 5000 troops which was ordered ready several days ago.

Demand for Wage Increase Was Denied

PERTH AMBOY, N. J., June 17.—Nine hundred employees of the Harbor Asphalt works who agreed Saturday to return to work marked today to the plant, died inside, stood at their places 15 minutes and then walked out again because demands for a further increase in wages were denied.

This was but one development in a situation which appeared yesterday to have been well on the mend toward normal. Another incident was the refusal of the 1500 employees of the American Smelting & Refining Co. to return to work under an advance of 15 cents a day.

The workers voted to reject the offer and stood firm for the demand of 25 cents.

Quiet continued today. The 300 deputies were still on guard in the affected districts. There was no disorder.

COL. ROOSEVELT TENDERED A RECEPTION TO HIS DELEGATES

CHICAGO, June 17.—Col. Roosevelt's reception to the Roosevelt delegates and alternates today was the most strenuous experience he has gone through since he reached Chicago. Several times before the apparently endless string of enthusiasts had passed him he cried out, "Not another man; not another man." Once the colonel broke out of the reception line, in which he was surrounded by policemen and special guards and started across the room toward one of the side doors.

Col. Roosevelt began the handshaking with enthusiasm. After a half-hour of gripping, however, perspiration was rolling from his face, his voice was getting tremulous and he was skipping over a half dozen hands at a time.

Police flashlights photographed taken within ten feet of Col. Roosevelt as he stood at the head of the line helped to increase his nervousness and make the long procession more than his patience could endure. Finally he declared: "Hold the line as it is and I'll pass along it."

Policemen did the best they could to hold it and the colonel with a body-guard of policemen and plain clothes assistants was hustled to the back end of the room, up a private staircase and around through the hotel corridors to the room of the Illinois delegation, where an "experience meeting" was being held behind closed doors.

As Col. Roosevelt was forcibly propelled into this room policemen pushed the crowd back, blocked passage down the stairs and stopped everyone. The declaration of the guardian of the Illinois headquarters that "only Illinois delegates could get in" dispersed the crowd temporarily.

The Roosevelt leaders caucused with many of the state delegations today previous to the general caucus of the full delegations. Twenty of the Missouri delegates who are with Roosevelt conferred with the leaders today and determined to stand by the Roosevelt program through thick and thin.

At a meeting of the Ohio delegation a resolution was adopted authorizing A. L. Garland of Elvira to cast 34 of the Ohio 43 votes for Roosevelt and all propositions in the program of the Roosevelt forces.

GEORGIA LEADERS

CHICAGO, June 17.—Georgia leaders today denied defections in the ranks of negroes in the delegation.

"Only one man, Clark Grier, a white delegate, has deserted to Roosevelt," said Henry S. Jackson of Atlanta, who was endorsed by the state convention for national committeeman. Mr. Jackson said he had talked today with J. C. Styles and S. S. Minney, the negroes named in the list of five men alleged to have gone over and that they had assured him they would stand solidly for Taft.

H. Boone, a white delegate named among the five, admitted that he intended to disregard his instructions and vote for Roosevelt. J. E. Peterson, the fifth man on the list, has not arrived.

Henry Blum, Jr., national committeeman from Georgia, said today that he believed all the negroes on the delegation would remain true to their instructions.

SPRINGFIELD, June 17.—Frank Palmer, aged about 55, who was picked up on Market street Saturday evening after having been struck by an automobile, died in Mercy hospital last evening from a fractured skull. No one has been found who witnessed the accident. The man was found in a gutter in a helpless condition and removed to the hospital for treatment. He was conscious a few minutes after being found and told Capt. O'Malley that he was from Lowell, being employed there as a stucco worker.

The distance covered was 533 miles and the aviator had to complete seven times a triangle from Angers to Cholet, from Cholet to Saumur, and Saumur to Angers.

FUNERALS

KINNEY.—The funeral of Mrs. True-love Perkins Kinney took place at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from her home in Bleachery street. The burial was in the Edison cemetery and was private. J. B. Currier Co. had charge of the funeral and Rev. E. Victor Bigelow, pastor of the Elliot Congregational church, officiated at the services at the house at which a large number of relatives and friends were present.

The bearers were Burton A. Kinney, Arno L. Kinney, sons of the deceased, and James A. Garland and Burton H. Preston. There were many beautiful floral tributes, though it was requested that no flowers be sent.

MILL IS CLOSED

WOONSOCKET, R. I., June 17.—Efforts of the weavers of the Montrose Woolen Co. to secure the discharge of three men because they did not pay their dues to the union, caused the closing of the mill for an indefinite period today. The mill employs 150 operatives and its treasurer is Gov. Aram J. Pothier. The weavers, who are members of the woolen weavers' union, claim that the three operatives in question belong to the Industrial Workers of the World.

"DARK HORSE" BOOMS DISCUSSED BY LEADERS

Governor Foss and Mayor Gaynor Are Among Those Mentioned

BALTIMORE, June 17.—Headquarters of the democratic national committee was moved today to rooms in Convention hall, where National Chairman Mack and his associate committee will include the remaining details incident to the opening of the convention a week from tomorrow.

Two "dark horse" booms for the presidential nomination were informally discussed here today by national committeemen. The booms were for Mayor Gaynor of New York and Gov. Foss of Massachusetts. Whether the movement in behalf of Mayor Gaynor is being encouraged by Charles F. Murphy, leader of Tammany hall, could not be learned here, but those directing the candidacy of Gov. Wilson said that they had been informed that Mayor Murphy was of the opinion that New York should make no choice for president until after the Chicago convention.

The movement for Governor Foss was launched by Frank Hendricks of New York, who said that the governor's name might not be taken up until the second ballot. Mr. Hendricks said that Gov. Foss' platform was the immediate reduction of the tariff and reciprocity with Canada.

National Committeeman Sullivan of Illinois said that he had not heard that the Illinois delegates were trying to secure the vice presidency for Illinois. Regarding the repeated reports that the New York, Indiana and Illinois delegations would unite to make the nomination Mr. Sullivan remarked in the presence of other committeemen today, "Illinois delegates will vote as a unit and continue to vote throughout the convention. We are for Clark."

"Will you vote for Clark after the first ballot?" "I may be dead then and I'm not going to tell what I'll do," answered Mr. Sullivan.

Secretary Woodson received word today that some contests would be filed from Rhode Island. The notification gave no details.

Headquarters for Speaker Clark and Governor Wilson were opened today.

CHANGE OF POLICY AT THE MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE ANNOUNCED

This week marks the 22d consecutive week of high class vaudeville, moving pictures and illustrated songs at the popular Merrimack Square theatre in Paige street, which was opened to the local public a little less than two years ago. Since the opening of this popular playhouse it has been closed but two days, those being Good Fridays.

Manager Carroll today announced that beginning next Monday he intended to change the policy of the house for several weeks and instead of running weekly vaudeville shows will produce stock productions, moving pictures and illustrated songs. The bill will be changed twice weekly. He is of the opinion that the theatre-going public will appreciate the change during the summer months.

He has engaged the well known Harvard Stock company, which has been playing in Cambridge and is well known as a high class company. The leading lady will be Valerie Valarie, who was playing leading parts with Lindsay Morrison last year.

As previously stated there will be a change of program, both in the shows produced and other attractions on Monday and Thursday of each week. The prices will remain the same and the performances will start at one o'clock in the afternoon and continue until 10:30 o'clock at night. Sacred concerts will be given every Sunday.

Next Monday afternoon the Harvard company will present "The Belle of Richmond" and during the latter part of the week "Ishmael" will be given. Among other plays which will be produced will be "The Rosary," "What Happened to Jones," "The City" and other high class productions.

That the Merrimack Square theatre is very popular goes without saying when there has been an average attendance of between 15,000 and 20,000 weekly since the opening of the theatre.

TO BUY TWO AUTOS

The purchasing agent has a requisition for two automobiles, runabouts, for the water department. These are the two machines that the municipal council at its meeting on Saturday gave Commissioner Barrett authority to buy and they are to be used by the district fire chiefs, Messrs. # GREAT DAMAGE BY CLOUDBURST

At Elyria—Loss is Estimated at $100,000

ELYRIA, O., June 17.—A cloudburst struck Elyria and surrounding country late last night, causing damage to buildings, growing crops and orchards estimated at $100,000. No lives were lost.

NEW SYSTEM OF CHECKING BAGGAGE ADOPTED BY B. & M. ROAD

A new system of checking baggage has been adopted by the Boston and Maine railroad that according to Baggage-master Goss at the local station will be a great improvement and time saver. Heretofore, all checks were put into brass shells, and as it was necessary to attach the shell with a strap considerable time was consumed. The new check is called a string check. This is attached to the baggage with a string and saves a great deal of time. "Another advantage of the new check," Mr. Goss said, "is that as the brass check is very heavy and pointed at the corners it did considerable damage, when it struck a trunk or suit case. With the new one though, this cannot happen."

PREMIER TO RETIRE

PEKING, June 17.—Premier Tang Shao Yi, who on Saturday suddenly departed from here for Tsing Tsien without giving any notice to the members of the cabinet, today announced his intention of retiring from office, giving as the ground for this step that he had lost the confidence of the foreigners.

MISSIONARY DEAD

MANCHESTER, N. H., June 17.—Word reached this city today that David Elvall, one of three Manchester missionaries in China, from the same family, died at Hankow on May 13 of scarlet fever. He had been in China nearly 20 years.

FOR LIFE INSURANCE CRUSHED TO DEATH BY FALLING STEEPLE

Novel Plan at Am. Hide and Leather Co.

One of the earliest savings bank insurance agencies established was at the American Hide & Leather Company in this city and since its establishment, this agency has been under the efficient care of Mr. George F. Howes. There are now 42 policyholders and $18,311 of insurance in force.

Arrangements are under way to establish a Mutual Benefit Association at the American Hide & Leather company among the employees. This association will provide for a sick benefit of $5.00 per week and a death benefit of $100. for each member. This death benefit is to be cared for by an insurance policy issued by one of the insurance departments of the savings banks. Mr. Charles Peter Hall, vice-president of the company, has generously offered to contribute $500. a year to the funds of such an association. Already more than 100 of the employees have signified their desire to become members of this association and indications are that a Mutual Benefit Association of from 100 to 500 members will be formed.

WOMAN DROWNED

HER COMPANION WAS RESCUED BY TWO MEN

A drowning accident occurred yesterday when Mrs. Frank S. Pierce of Cambridge lost her life in White pond. Mrs. R. H. Houllette of Melrose Highlands, Mass., was rowing on White pond and when they attempted to exchange seats the boat capsized. Alfred Fomerleau of Lawrence jumped into the water from a nearby wharf and with the assistance of Police Inspector Wilson of Revere rescued Mrs. Houllette. Mrs. Pierce sank immediately.

PROF. GOODWIN

NOTED CLASSICAL SCHOLAR AND TEACHER DEAD

BOSTON, June 17.—Prof. William Watson Goodwin, retired, author of the "Greek Moods and Tenses," passed away quietly at his home, 5 Fuller street, Cambridge, late Saturday night. He had been ill a month with heart trouble. He was 81 years old.

Born in 1831, at Concord, graduated in 1851 at Harvard, made Eliot professor of Greek literature just before the beginning of 1861, he retired with the close of the academic year 1901. A lifelong student of the classics and an exponent of the Hellenic culture, his scholarship was profound and his industry untiring.

Prof. Goodwin studied at Bonn, Berlin and Göttingen, and was tutor at Harvard from 1856 till his appointment as a full professor.

RAPID GROWTH

IN THE EXPORTS TO SOUTH AMERICA

WASHINGTON, June 17.—Exports to South America have shown a phenomenal gain in the fiscal year which ends with the present month. Prior to 1911 the total value of exports to South America had never reached 100 million dollars. In 1911, the total was, speaking in round terms, 100 million dollars, and in the current fiscal year, which ends with the present month, seems likely to be about 135 million dollars, having more than doubled since 1905.

Argentina is the country showing by far the largest gain in our exports to South America. The figures now available in the bureau of statistics of the department of commerce and labor indicate that the total exports to Argentina for the complete fiscal year will amount to about 55 million dollars, against 25½ million in 1905, having thus considerably more than doubled in the period in question. To Brazil, total exports for the fiscal year will exceed 20 million dollars in value, against 11 million in 1905, an even larger percentage of gain than in the case of Argentina. To Chile the total for the year will amount to about 15 million dollars, against 5½ million in 1905, also a gain of nearly 200 per cent. To Uruguay the figures of exports for the fiscal year which ends with the present month will aggregate about 7 million dollars in value, against a little less than 2 million in 1905.

This increase in exports to South America, while occurring in a large number of articles, is especially notable in lumber, leather, mineral oils and railway material. For example, the exports of lumber to Argentina in the 10 months ending with April last, amounted to 5½ million dollars in value, against 4 million in the corresponding months of last year; and those to other South America 3 million dollars, against about 2 million in the corresponding period of the preceding year. Illuminating oil exported to Argentina in the 10 months in question amounted to about 24 million gallons, against about 13 million in the corresponding months a year ago; and lubricating oil, over 4 million gallons, against less than 3 million in the same months of last year. Glazed kid leather exported to Argentina in the 10 months of 1912 amounted to over 1 million dollars in value, against 370 thousand dollars in the corresponding months of the preceding year. Automobiles exported to South America as a whole amounted in the 10 months in question to 1½ million dollars in value, against 655 thousand dollars in the corresponding months of the preceding year.

The total value of exports from the United States to South America as a whole was, ten years ago, in the fiscal year 1902, 23 million dollars. Five years ago, in the fiscal year 1907, it was $2 million dollars, and in the current year, as indicated above, will probably be about 135 million dollars, an increase of more than 250 per cent in the decade, and of more than 50 per cent in the last five years.

WAS FOUND IN RIVER AT LAWRENCE,

LAWRENCE, June 17.—The body of Margaret Hopkins, aged 22 years, of 57 Lexington street, was found floating in the Spicket river, near her home yesterday afternoon. The young woman had been ill since January and was seen yesterday wandering around in the vicinity of the river, as if deranged.

Her disappearance was reported to the police Saturday night and yesterday afternoon her body was found. She leaves three brothers, one of whom is a well known member of the Lawrence fire department.

B. & M. RATE CASE

CONCORD, N. H., June 17.—Representative of a hundred principal industries in New Hampshire appeared before the public service commission in this city today to testify in regard to the position taken by counsel for the commission in the Boston & Maine rate case that commodity rates granted these industries have not been raised in fair ratio to other increases. The witnesses agreed that the rates given them were necessary in order to enable industries located in this state to meet competition and that an increase of the rates would necessitate a removal of the industries.

SOCIAL GOSSIP
FEMININE LOREPannier is Latest Feature in Fashion World Today

In its development the pannier, one of the very latest features of fashion, is graceful and attractive, and many charming gowns are made in this style. It is especially well adapted to four-ards, taffetas, and other soft silks, but it is being used for materials of many kinds. The gown illustrated combines one of the new flowered silks with plain taffeta, the trimming being of lace, the yoke of net and the full portions of the blouse of chiffon. The pannier can be made after the manner shown on the figure or with closed 2½ yards 36 or 44 inches wide will be sufficient.

Overblouses of taffeta worn with lingerie gowns are among the smartest of all things this season. All sorts of pretty colors are used for their making, and they are extremely attractive and very generally becoming. The one illustrated is perfectly simple, closing at the shoulder and underarm. It includes a peplum that can be adjusted at either the high or natural waist line. The gump beneath is a simple one with the kimono sleeves that are general favorites. The tunic, or upper

The Beach Girl a Distinct Feature
At the Summer Resorts This Season

The beach girl will be a distinct feature of attractive femininity this summer. She has always been a factor to be reckoned with at the seashore, but there is every reason to believe that she is going to be more prominently in the picture next season than ever before in her smiling, lovely existence. To achieve the distinction of being a beach beauty requires considerable artistic ability of a sartorial and scenic sort. She must be able to arrange the stage setting in an effective fashion, always taking into account the personal equation.

The beach girl, for example, must be very careful in the selection of her beach umbrella. Its canvas colorings must harmonize and not clash with her costume, for under the hospitable shade of this umbrella lady will hold her court on the sand. A lazy sand chair and perhaps a cozy rug for chilly mornings are requisites of the beach court.

Several sets of chair cushions will be absolutely necessary. Neutral tints, as a rule, are the safest to own, but the beach girl will never forget the effectiveness of bright red silk cushions when she gracefully reclines in her sand chair gowned in dainty white from the top of her pretty little head to the tip of her well-boiled foot. As this is to be another "white year," the red cushions are likely to play a large part in the beach picture.

And, in connection with white frocks, how do you like the white ratine gown among the illustrations? This little frock has the low armhole now fashionable for all outing costumes and the new wash, which has two short ends simply folded or lapped over the belt portion. White buckskin button boots make the frock very smart.

And in connection with footwear, sensible models for country and seashore wear are abroad this summer. The pretty, high heeled pumps and buttoned boots which are so smart and trim with conventional garb may be sacrificed on the beach for canvas or buckskin shoes, looking high over the instep and having stout soles and low broad heels. The white shoe is so cool and summery looking and is so easily kept spick and span that it is no trouble to wear it even if one has to be one's own maid.

Silk bathing suits will be in evidence this summer quite as much as they have been for the past few seasons. And a clever girl I know, one of the beach beauty cult, has made for herself a stunning bathing suit out of an old ball gown. Clever, wasn't she? The frock was of white messaline, and the skirt was one of the tight "hobble" affairs that never could be in the water in its sheath-like proportions, so the clever little lady widened the skirt by applying panels of striped taffeta, which really improved the appearance of the costume. The white messaline formed a bib over a bodice of striped silk.

But the wise beach girl is going to have a sturdy little knitted suit, no silk costume for her. Heavy breakers that pull to pieces a silk bathing suit in no time at all have no effect on one of these knitted costumes. You can see for yourself how natty such a bathing suit is by glancing at the model pictured. Jersey and trunks are of knitted worsted, and the short, plaited skirt of mohair is strengthened by its stitched braid trimming. The collar and tie match the skirt material.

front and wide bands, as shown in the small view, while the skirt can be made in walking or round length and finished at the high or the natural waist line. As illustrated, the pannier makes part of a charming afternoon costume. Made with the lower skirt and with a blouse from which the yoke has been omitted it would become adapted to dinner and evening wear. In whatever way it is treated it is charming in a picturesque and interesting way.

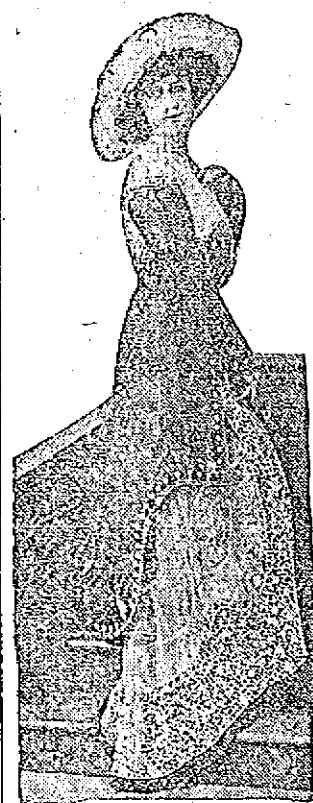

For the medium size the blouse will require 2½ yards of material 27 inches wide or 2 yards 36 or 44 inches wide, with three-eighths of a yard 44 inches wide for the full portion, three-quarters of a yard 18 inches wide for the yoke and 3½ yards of lace. For the foundation skirt 3 yards 27 inches wide or 2½ yards 36 inches wide to make as illustrated. For the band attached to the lower edge will be required three-quarters of a yard 27 inches wide.

whites of the eggs and pour the mixture into small and rather long shaped paper fans. Place them in the oven and bake a pale brown. Serve at once. This batter is very nice when poured over cauliflower, stewed broccoli or celery.

Roast Cheese.—Grate three ounces of Cheshire cheese and mix it with the yolks of two eggs, four ounces of grated bread crumbs and three ounces of butter. Add a dessertspoonful of mustard and a little salt and pepper. Toast some small rounds of bread, lay the mixture upon them, put them into an oven to get hot all through and to allow the cheese to brown a little. Serve very hot.

Anchovy Toast.—Bone and skin six or eight anchovies and pound them to a mass with an ounce of fine butter and spread it on toast.

Tomatoes and mushrooms with Olive Sandwiches.—Take six skinned and cut tomatoes, a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce, one of butter rubbed with one of cornstarch, a speck of cayenne and a pinch of salt. Simmer until thick, add a little minced onion and mushrooms. Cook twelve minutes and serve with brown bread sandwiches spread with butter and chopped olives.

Hot Ham Sandwich.—Put some boiled cold ham through a meat chopper and mix with a very little butter into a paste. To a half cupful put a quarter of a teaspoonful of dry mustard. Spread this mixture on squares or rounds of bread and put the two together with a thin slice of good cheese. Sauté in a hot chafin dish with a tablespoonful of butter until the latter begins to bubble. Have ready hot plates, and when the cheese has melted and the bread is browned slip one on each plate.

PORCH SCREENS

Have you seen the new screens? They are made of broad strips of Lindenwood treated with weather proof colors and rigged with metal pulleys. They are finished in dark green and are most attractive and durable. There is another new screen of German manufacture made of strips of basswood, bound together with hundreds of threads. While expensive, these screens will last for years and are among the newest things of the sort.

So varied are the screen models this year that there are hanging screens by means of which another room may be added to your summer cottage. They invite privacy and give a charming subdued light to a porch fitted up as a sleeping room either in bamboo or wicker furniture.

Porch screens also tend to make an ideal sleeping room out of an upstairs porch, and this fad of sleeping out of doors is growing every year. Soon it won't be a fad at all.

SMART SUMMER JACKET

The summer girl will not be up to date this year unless she has in her possession a blazer jacket either in magpie colorings or in some of the more conspicuous combinations of the season. A striped black and red jacket is considered very good style. These blazer models are hip length affairs with cut away front and notched collar in mannish effect. They button with a single button at the bust line, and the sleeves are long and close fitting. The blazer illustrated is of black and white striped flannel.

SOME USEFUL RECIPES

Many Delicious Ways of Serving Chicken

Select a nice tender chicken, clean, singe and split down the back. Season well with salt and pepper, rubbing the seasoning well on the inside of the chicken. Lay in a saucepan, cover with boiling water and let simmer for an hour if the chicken is quite young. Add to it while cooking one tablespoonful of minced parsley, one tablespoonful of thyme, a minced bay leaf, a small onion chopped fine and salt and pepper to taste. When the chicken is done place on a heated dish, butter nicely and serve with sauce tartare.

Sauce Tartare

To a pint of mayonnaise sauce, made with tarragon vinegar and mustard, add a shallot chopped fine, one-fourth of a cup each of fine chopped capers, olives and cucumber pickles, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley and a half teaspoonful of powdered tarragon. Half a teaspoonful of onion juice may take the place of the shallot.

Deviled Chicken

Boil a year old chicken according to the above directions. When done mince the meat fine and make a sauce as follows: Rub into a saucepan one tablespoonful of butter. As the butter melts add a tablespoonful of onion minced very fine, a sprig of parsley minced, a bay leaf minced and half a clove of garlic minced fine. Let the ingredients simmer gently without browning them. Add a tablespoonful of sifted flour. Mix thoroughly and add three tablespoonfuls of vinegar or a gill of white wine. Stir well and add a pint of water in which the chicken has been boiled. Season with salt and pepper to taste, add a dash of cayenne and a teaspoonful of prepared mustard. Simmer three minutes longer, and as it comes to a boil pour over the chicken and serve.

Chicken and Rice

Select a fine chicken, clean, cut and season well with salt and pepper, melt two tablespoonfuls of butter in a saucepan and add the chicken. Let it brown well, then add these vegetables: chopped fine: Two small turnips, two carrots, two onions, a small piece of red pepper root and three tomatoes, then add a clove of garlic, a bay leaf, a bit of lemon peel, a sprig of thyme, and one of parsley, a little ham in half inch squares. Let all simmer gently for ten minutes, and then add two quarts of boiling water. After this draw to the back of the stove and simmer slowly for 40 minutes, then add one cup of rice carefully washed. Stir the mixture well, taste and season well if need be. Continue cooking about 20 minutes. Arrange chicken on platter with garnish of rice and pour over the vegetable sauce.

Chicken Croquettes

Boil the chicken and when cold remove from the bones all fat and tendons, chop well and add seasonings, parsley, bay leaf and onions. Take a cupful of soft bread, wet it, squeeze and soak in one cupful of milk into which have been beaten two eggs. Mix all together thoroughly and stuff. Form with cold into shapes, cylinders or pears. Roll in deep, boiling fat only long enough to brown.

A WAY TO EARN MONEY

This is a "really truly" story of a woman who, having been left a hundred dollars, started a professional career with the legacy by purchasing a pneumatic cleaner.

Several weeks before the money was paid over to her a woman friend bewailed the fact that she could not afford to have her house cleaned by a professional, neither could she afford a pneumatic cleaner of her own. "I would like to rent one by the day if I knew some one who would let me try it."

The hearer went at once on a tour of inspection of pneumatic cleaners. The advantages of various makes were carefully studied, and one was finally selected that came within the hundred dollar limit.

After purchasing the cleaner and mastering its intricacies the girl first visit was to the friend who had given her the idea. "I have a pneumatic cleaner to rent. What do you want done and what would be a fair price to charge?" It was decided to rent the machine for 15 cents an hour if the owner did not direct its manipulations and 20 cents an hour if she did.

An engagement was made for three hours of work every week, the girl to take charge of the maid and see that house was thoroughly cleaned. Later the owner of the cleaner sent out a circular to her friends giving prices for different uses for her machine. Soon she had more work than she could do, and her legacy paid a huge interest. If there was a hurry order more was charged. There was also an additional fee if she was expected to arrange rooms after cleaning.

Later on when the girl had gained experience clothes cleaning was added to that of housecleaning. This work is pleasant for a strong, healthy girl, the pay is good and a trade is built up without the worry of expenses.

STANDARDS OF LIVING

The national conference of charities and corrections in session at Cleveland is preparing planks for submission to the two political parties, covering a variety of questions, bearing upon standards of wages, hours of labor, health, sanitation, and safety, housing and the term of a working life.

This body urges that the welfare of society and the prosperity of the state demand the maintenance of certain standards of living as necessary to secure mental, physical and moral health. In the first place a minimum wage is advocated as a protection against a state of existence to which no wage earner should be allowed to fall. For this purpose a commission is urged to arrange such wage standards as may be deemed fair in the various crafts.

The leaders in this movement contend that the community should protect itself against subnormal conditions, and that this can be done only by government control that will regulate those conditions and agencies that threaten the general welfare.

Thus minimum standards are recommended not only in regard to wages, hours, housing, safety and health but also in the term of the working life and in compensation for injuries in accident, such as is provided for in the workmen's compensation law.

These propositions are so varied and general that they seem to partake of all the paternalism of socialism. The practicability of many of the schemes set forth is open to grave question, but the discussion of such ideas can do no harm and may result in good. The term of a working life would set a minimum and maximum age outside of which it would be illegal to employ the individual. The age of sixteen is named as the minimum, but the society does not venture to say whether Dr. Osler's age limit of sixty would be the proper time for retirement.

It would be very nice, indeed, if every man who has been self-supporting from the age of sixteen up should be enabled to retire at the age of sixty; but it would require a government pension in most cases to offer any guarantee of such a source of happiness in declining years.

Such visions may perhaps be realized at some future time; but at present it is difficult to see how they could be guaranteed by a government bent with political conflict and devoted to the distribution of special privilege rather than protecting the lives, the happiness and prosperity of the people.

GOOD TIMES ASSURED

The Banker and Tradesman, which is considered a very reliable authority in business matters offers the following assurance of good business for the coming season:

"It is a time-honored superstition that presidential campaigns destroy business. The only real element of truth in it, however, is that the superstition itself makes a fine excuse for pulling a poor mouth in the office of the man who has called to collect a bill or solicit an order, while in the plant every wheel is whirling with the effort to keep up with orders. The present campaign is no exception. It surely is exciting enough. It certainly does produce some hesitancy and caution, but as to destroying business—it's all bosh! What orders we don't get before election will not be 'destroyed.' We'll get 'em after election, and in the meantime there's enough current business to keep us all busy, so cheer up and pass it along."

THE CHICAGO CONFLICT

The situation seems to have undergone a change with the arrival of Roosevelt at Chicago. Teddy while crying fraud against honest men is probably practising it or having it practiced for him by his friends. The reported defection in the Taft delegations is bad. Taft is not the man to stem any stampede of this kind. He has good fighters, however, and if they had a good leader there would be no question as to the victory.

The country has never had a convention fight like this, never a candidate fighting a first term opponent to get a third term for himself and fighting too as no one else has ever fought.

The nation stands aghast, and there is no telling what may happen. Taft has the delegates but under conditions such as will prevail in the convention, that will not ensure his nomination.

SCARCITY OF MILL HELP

It is not at all strange that there should be a scarcity of help in the local mills. We have had a general strike recently that drove many operatives out of town in order to earn enough to support themselves or dependents. Having secured good positions in other cities they have decided to remain. At present the Lowell mills are adding to their help and find it difficult to get skilled operatives for all their machines. This is one of the damaging effects of a great mill strike. The strike was precipitated by outside agitators, and more than half the operatives did not want to quit work. The mills being crippled had to close. There is a scarcity of skilled help in other mill cities as well as in Lowell and one that will continue unless met by immigration.

POPULATION, NATIVE AND FOREIGN

Recent census returns show the percentage of foreign-born citizens in a number of cities, among which are the following:

Pasadena, N. J., 52 per cent.; Lawrence, Mass., 48.1; Perth Amboy, N. J., 44.5; New Bedford, Mass., 44.1; Woonsocket, R. I., 43.4; Fall River, Mass., 42.6; Chelsea, Mass., 42.1; Manchester, N. H., 42.1; New Britain, Conn., 41; Lowell, Mass., 40.9; Shenandoah, Pa., 40.6; New York, N. Y., 40.4; Holyoke, Mass., 40.3.

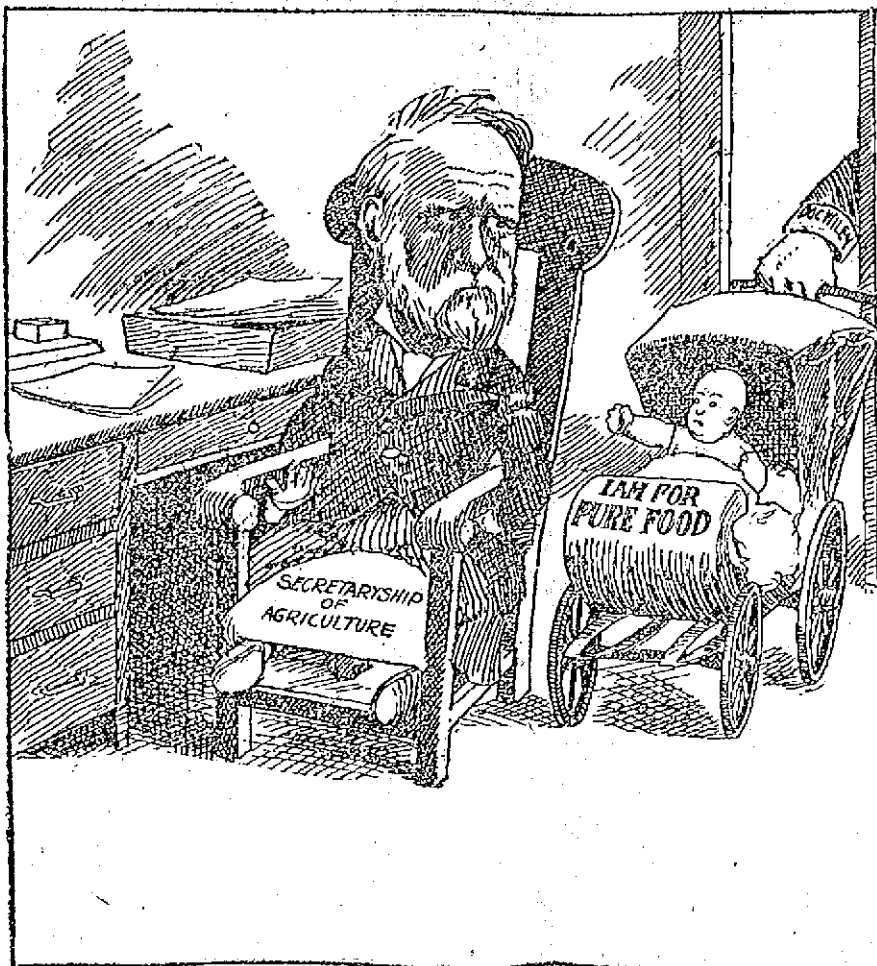

Thus it appears that Lowell has not as great a proportion of foreign-born citizens as several of the other mill cities of this state.

EXCESSIVE RATES OF INTEREST ON LOANS

Our temporary and other loans have been negotiated at rates of interest as high as might be asked from a borrower who is considered a bad risk. The city of Lowell should be able to borrow money at as low a rate of interest as any city in the state, but it pays, we understand, nearly twice as much as some of them. The rate of 4.62 and even 5 per cent. and upwards is altogether too high. Under ordinary conditions such a rate of interest might well be regarded as a deliberate swindle of the city.

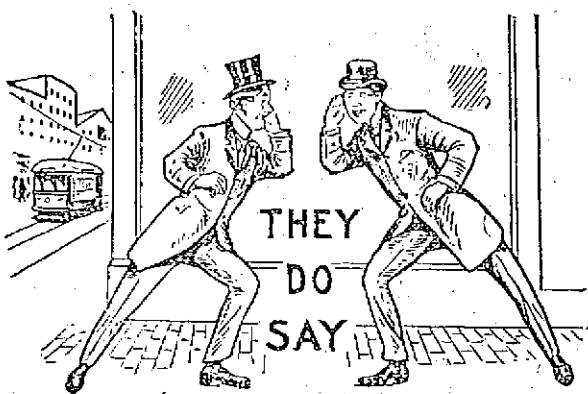

Boston takes special pride in celebrating Bunker Hill day. The observance this year will be marred by the car strike as the people do not care to take any chances of injury on the various lines. The inexperienced motormen and conductors are having many accidents and for this the company is responsible, so that General Bancroft after all will not be long getting rid of his million dollars.

Why cannot the dynamite planter of Lawrence step down and out quietly so as not to give himself or the city any more unsavory notoriety? Will it help his case any if he be thrown out by indignant citizens?

"WHEN I GROW TO BE A MAN I'LL GET YOU OUT OF THAT CHAIR"

Wiley, Jr., to Secretary Wilson.

That Saturday was a busy day for Dave Petrie in Merrimack square, as many autos passed through the city.

That the local theatregoers regret the closing of Keith's theatre.

That the Boston strikers who were in Lowell last week realized a goodly sum.

That the "out club" has received two additional members.

That there is a very peculiar sign attached to a building near Davis square. It reads: "Large & McLean".

That during the winter months a great many changes have been made in the camps along the Concord river.

That there was some class to the opening of the Genoa club yesterday.

That a well known local soloist attracted a large audience the other evening, when he was displaying his ability to his lady friend.

That an agent for a Boston paper will not sell his "goods" to a local newsboy because he sold another paper.

That several students of the electrical department of the industrial school are doing considerable wiring about the city.

That the red twenty-five cent ball is proving very popular with the local amateur ball teams.

That the audiences at city hall are getting quite large these days.

That the proprietors of the summer dance halls are insisting that the so-called "grizzly bear" dance be eliminated. A good thing.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

The Temple Players, whose success during their seven weeks' stay at the Merrimack Square Theatre have made them unusually popular with the hundreds of patrons of that playhouse, are to appear in one of New York's biggest successes during the present week's series. The piece is called "A Night at the Cabaret," and it is said to be filled with a choice assortment of everything that's clever in the musical comedy line. The piece will be elaborately staged, and the large cast engaged in its presentation will be seen at its best. Miss Grace Hawthorne, the clever leading soloist of the company, is scheduled to appear in a part that will present rare chance to display her charm and ability as an entertainer. The other members of the cast, including James Byrnes, Jr., Richard Stead, George Lewis, Miss Helen Nichols, and Frankie Wood, will also find ample opportunity to display their cleverness.

LeRoux, character change artist, has enjoyed successes in other cities and should please local patrons. Claude Austin is a clever comedy singer who introduces several new and novel songs, and Miss Alice Bagley, the Lowell girl, will be heard in new illustrated songs.

The photo-play for the first three days of the week will include some of the best produced. Among those to be shown here for the first time are "The Angel and the Stranded Tramp," a comedy offering by the Edison company; "Yellow Bird," a dramatic production by the Vitaphone company; "Messina as It Is Today," an educational picture, and several others equally as good.

A pleasant feature in connection with the presentations at this theatre is the fact that a normal temperature is always maintained, making it cool and comfortable at all times. When the warm and sultry outside it is enjoyable inside the theatre.

This week is the last week for the Temple Players.

THE KASINO

The people of Lowell are invited to band concerts afternoon and evening at the Kasino on Thorndike street till this week. The concerts will be given by the Kasino orchestra of 15 pieces, and will begin at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, each lasting 30 minutes. There is absolutely no charge for the entertainment, and those who enjoy dancing may find ample opportunity following the concerts, with tickets five cents a couple.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

Paid Tribute to Their

Departed Brothers

Wamesit lodge, No. 25, and Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56, of the Knights of Pythias observed Memorial Sunday yesterday and paid tribute to their departed brothers. The services were very impressive and were largely attended.

Both lodges met in Castle hall in Merrimack street at 9:15 o'clock, where joint services were held. A trio composed of P. C. E. E. Mansur, John Shaw and P. C. Robert J. Fullerton rendered some beautiful selections during the services. P. C. Robert J. Fullerton sang "The Vacant Chair," in memory of those who had departed during the past year. Miss Harriet E. Mansur presided at the piano in her most efficient manner, which was highly pleasing to all.

During the past year, four members have been called to the grand lodge above to mingle with those gone before. Addison Hadley died Sept. 25, 1911; James P. Dagdale died Nov. 13, 1911; members of Wamesit lodge, No. 25. Dr. Charles W. Taylor died Jan. 4, 1912; Samuel Omand died May 22, 1912; members of Samuel H. Hines lodge, No. 56.

At the conclusion of the morning services charges were taken to the various cemeteries where the graves of the deceased members were decorated.

The closing ceremony came in the afternoon at the Pythian lot in the Edison cemetery. The members of the lodges, to the number of 80, gathered around the lot in the form of a hollow square, with members of the Pythian

Sisters and friends of those who have departed, and listened with interest and bowed heads to the beautiful rendering of the Knights of Pythias' tribute to their dead, by Brother Warren

H. Arnold of Wamesit lodge, No. 25,

P. C. Walter H. Gilman, of Samuel H.

Hines lodge, No. 56, as prelate for the occasion, ably filled the office as of old.

The words of both brothers called back to memory those who were with us last year, causing all who listened, to wonder who would be missing ere another year goes by.

IN CARDINAL'S ESCORT

Humphrey O'Sullivan at

N. Y. Reception

One of the most imposing gatherings of Catholic laymen of the United States that has been held in a long time took place yesterday at the Re-treast house of the Laymen's league for retreats and social studies, at

Mount Mansera, N. Y., when Cardinal

all's day was observed. While the Laymen's league is a diocesan organization it has members all over the country and this city was represented by Mr.

Humphrey O'Sullivan, who was one of an committee of 20 who acted as the cardinal's personal escort at the affair.

Alfred Woods of Westford was badly injured Saturday night as a result of being thrown from his bicycle. He was found in an unconscious condition and taken to a nearby house and Dr. Sherman of Graniteville summoned. The accident happened on the steep part of the long hill in Westford and was caused by the bicycle striking a large stone in the road. Wood's face was badly lacerated and his neck badly injured but he is resting comfortably today.

A musical extravaganza was given in the town hall by the pupils of Miss

L. B. Perrin, assisted by Miss Louise

Talbot of Lowell, Saturday night. The entertainment was something similar to that which was presented at Hathaway's theatre in Lowell several weeks ago.

The Middlesex county commissioners have ordered return made providing that one-third of the expense of the proposed new Fordway bridge at North Billerica be borne by the county, provided the expense does not exceed $21,300, the estimated cost according to J. R. Worcester & Co. of Boston, consulting engineers, who have made the plans for the proposed new structure. If the cost exceeds the sum of $21,300, then $7100 is to be paid by the county and no more.
